FINLAND TO REJECT DEMANDS AFFECTING NATION'S FREEDOM

Foreign Minister Says Settlement With Soviet Russia Desired But Country Will Insist on Right to Defend Independence and Neutrality—Expect to Turn Down Proposals

HELSINKI, Nov. 1 (AP).—Finland is prepared to "make a far-reaching settlement" with Soviet Russia, but will reject proposals which "would rob us of the possibility of defending the independence and neutrality of our land," Foreign Minister Erko declared tonight.

Speaking to a defence benefit meeting, the Foreign Minister declared Foreign Commissioner Molotov's disclosure of Russia's demands before the Russian Parliament yesterday had created a "queer atmosphere."

He spoke as a five-man Finnish delegation journeyed toward Moscow to deliver what observers believed was a firm "no" to Soviet demands, as disclosed yesterday, but with counter-proposals of its own.

Erko said his country would insist to the end on its rights as a neutral and its right to self-defence.

WILL DEFEND RIGHTS

The Finnish people, he added, were ready "to throw into the scale all we own," for these rights.

Disclosing for the first time from the Finnish side some of the details of the Russian-Finnish negotiations, now almost a month old, Erko said that Finland has "declared her readiness to make such arrangements, as above all, strengthen the safety of Leningrad and at the same time increase the safety of the Gulf of Finland and offer to the Soviet the possibilities of increasing this safety."

SEEKS RECALL OF U.S. ENVOY

Speech of Soviet Premier Arouses Indignation in United States House

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP).—Supporters of the neutrality fight in the United States, who were today at the White House, while on Capitol Hill Representative (Dem., Massachusetts) demanded recall of the United States envoy to the "anti-God" Soviets.

Seizing upon the speech in which Russian Premier Vyacheslav Molotov last night criticized President Roosevelt and said repeal of the arms embargo would prolong the war, Stephen Early, presidential secretary, raised the question whether it was "purely coincidental" the address was delivered at a time when an important vote on neutrality legislation was scheduled in the House of Representatives.

USE SPEECH AS ARGUMENT

In the House chamber, advocates of repeal also used the speech as an argument for their cause, while opponents disputed the contention of McCormack that a vote for the embargo could be considered a vote for Communist Russia.

McCormack demanded that Ambassador Laurence Steinhardt be called home because of "this attempt to influence American public opinion—this grave breach of international law."

Germany and Russia were the "anti-God" forces of the world today," he said, adding that with the embargo "we are lending practical aid to those forces that would destroy religion and impeding other forces not trying to destroy religion."

Says Soviet Must Clarify Chinese Aims

TOKIO, Nov. 1 (CP-Havas).—Japanese spokesmen said tonight Soviet Russia's attitude toward China must be clarified before Premier Molotov's hopes for a settlement of outstanding Japanese-Soviet problems can be realized.

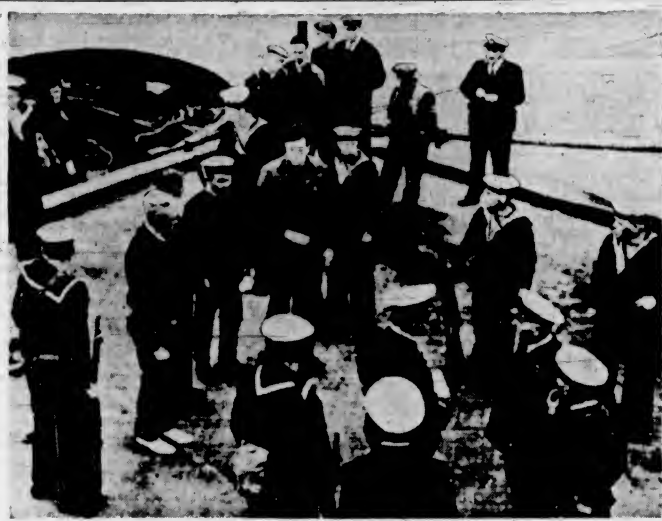

Commenting on the Soviet leader's speech on Tuesday, the spokesmen said Japan will not reject any Soviet proposals in advance, and will give them serious consideration.

Portmouthing arrival of the Soviet ambassador, Constantin Smetanin, is expected to provide an opportunity for Japan to obtain the required clarification.

WAR EFFORT IS OUTLINED

Australian Prime Minister Details Plans to Fight Against Hitlerism

SYDNEY, Australia, Nov. 1 (CP-Reuters).—Australian Prime Minister Robert Menzies announced during the day that the Commonwealth's determination to enlist its wealth of men and money in the Empire's service meant Australia would:

1. Send an expeditionary force of 20,000 officers and men overseas when its training is complete.
2. Purchase fifty additional airplanes from the United States, provided the Neutrality Act is revised.
3. Mechanize its army at a cost of about $1,500,000 (about $2,500,000).
4. Establish four additional munitions factories.
5. Finance a war expenditure for the fiscal year 1939-40 of $39,500,000 (about $212,415,000), exclusive of the cost of participating in the Empire training scheme.
6. Charter certain speedy, powerful merchant ships which will be armed heavily enough to deal with enemy armed merchantmen and destroyers. Some of these would be

City of Flint Is Believed Near Bergen

BERGEN, Norway, Nov. 1 (AP).—The American freighter City of Flint, expected to pass Bergen tomorrow, was believed tonight to be warning a blockade-dodging course southward along the irregular coast of Norway.

Norwegian authorities kept secret any information they might have about the freighter, which is being sailed by a German prize crew, but shipping circles here expressed the belief the ship was nearing waters in the vicinity of Bergen.

Shipping circles here it was unlikely the City of Flint would put in here since Bergen is a naval base, informed Norwegian said if the vessel stopped here she would be interned.

Three Victoria Men Appointed to Posts in First Division

Appointment of Twenty-Four Senior Officers Announced at Ottawa—Canadian Headquarters—To Be Established in England

OTTAWA, Nov. 1 (AP).—A gallant group of officers, tried in the fire of war, will support Major-General A. G. L. McNaughton in leading Canada's first overseas division. Hon. Norman Rogers, Minister of National Defence, today announced appointments to the senior posts in the division, in addition to that of divisional commander to which Major-General McNaughton was appointed some time ago. Three of the appointees are stationed at Esquimalt, Lieut.-Col. C. R. Turner, Lieut.-Col. J. M. Gibson and Capt. G. F. Townsend.

All sections of Canada and the permanent and non-permanent forces are represented in the list of twenty-four senior officers, including Major-General McNaughton, announced today. Their decorations

Royal Decree Said to Be Precipitous and Not Due to External Threat—Military Measures To Be Taken Only in Case of Emergency, Officials Say

THE HAGUE, Nov. 1 (AP).—A Royal decree tonight established martial law in key Netherlands defence communities, including 500 of the nation's 1,200 smaller towns and villages, to bolster military plans and curb espionage.

GERMAN ENVOYS MAKE REPORTS

Berlin Calls Ambassadors to Russia and Italy Home For Talks

BERLIN, Nov. 1 (AP).—Germany started calling the roll of her ambassadors tonight to determine whether the war situation was altered by such developments as the Soviet Russian-Finnish negotiations, Russia's outline of her foreign policy, Premier Mussolini's Cabinet shakeup and the Rome-Berlin axis relations with Turkey.

The German ambassador to Moscow, Count Friedrich Werner von der Schulenburg, was summoned home to make a report which an authorized spokesman said "certainly should be good news."

The Nazi ambassador to Italy, Hans-Georg Viktor von Mackensen, already has submitted his observations on the significance of yesterday's shakeup in the Fascist leadership and Premier Mussolini's keen interest in Turkish foreign policy.

As to Turkey herself, Ambassador Franz von Papen has been sent back to Ankara after reporting on the circumstances which drew Turkey into the British-French front after Russia declined to make a pact with Turkey.

At the Chancellery and the Foreign Office there was no surface indication that Germany is anything but satisfied with the Soviet declaration of neutrality.

PRANK LEADS TO DRIVER'S DEATH

Man Found Dead in Car at Kelowna—Apple Placed in Exhaust Pipe

KELOWNA, B.C., Nov. 1 (CP).—A Halloween prank was blamed tonight for the death of Angus McMillan, 40, of Vancouver, whose body was found this morning in a car with the engine still running.

British Columbia Police said that his death apparently was caused by carbon monoxide poisoning due to an apple which was stuck in the exhaust pipe. His body was found by his brother, Dan McMillan, of Kelowna.

McMillan, a forty-six-year-old insurance salesman, had arrived in this Okanagan city on Monday from Vancouver. He was a former resident of Kelowna, having come here with his family in 1902. He moved to Vancouver in 1928.

NEGOTIATING SEAWAY PLAN

Prime Minister Says Proposals for Completion of Project Revived

OTTAWA, Nov. 1 (CP).—Prime Minister Mackenzie King said here tonight discussions have been in progress for the past month between the Dominion and Ontario Governments looking toward renewed negotiations with the United States for completion of the St. Lawrence deep waterways project.

Commenting on an announcement by Premier Hepburn of Ontario that he has withdrawn his opposition to the scheme, Mr. Mackenzie King said negotiations between the Federal and Provincial Administrations have been going on since the Ontario Premier conferred with the Federal Cabinet here a month ago.

"At that time," the Prime Minister said, "because of the probable need for increased power resources in the near future, Mr. Hepburn intimated his willingness to reach an agreement on the project. We have been discussing the matter ever since."

Duke Talks To Foreign Reporters

WITH THE BRITISH EXPEDITIONARY FORCE IN FRANCE.
LONDON, Nov. 1 (AP).—The Duke of Gloucester, major-general in charge of liaison between British general headquarters and the men in the field, told foreign correspondents today he did not know when action would start, because "I can read Mr. Hitler's mind no better than you can."

The Duke stopped into a wayside inn for coffee and a smoke, and there met the correspondents. He shook hands all around, said it was "beastly weather," and wondered why we were out in it.

Search for Ss. Coulmore by United States Naval And Coast Guard Vessels Reveals No Trace Of British Collier

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP).—United States naval and coast guard vessels bucked an Atlantic gale tonight to search for a British freighter which flashed word she had been attacked by a submarine about 680 miles from New York.

The scene of the attack as reported by the freighter Coulmore, a 352-foot collier, was 400 miles inside the Pan-American "neutrality zone" fixed at the recent Panama Conference.

Official quarters here said that if it were established that a submarine had fired a torpedo within

Minister Defends Inclusion Of Food in Contraband List

LONDON, Nov. 1 (AP).—Taking Premier Vyacheslav Molotov's declaration of Russian neutrality at its face value, Great Britain today pushed on its trade talks with Soviet officials. The object of the talks, which have been proceeding more than a week, is to conclude a comprehensive trade agreement between the two countries which would not only work to their mutual advantage but which from Britain's point of view would cut into any economic assistance Russia is capable of giving Germany.

MAY ASK FOR PATRIOTIC ACRE

Suggestion Made for Contribution in Kind From Saskatchewan Farmers

REGINA, Nov. 1 (AP).—Premier Patterson announced here today the Saskatchewan Government might ask each farmer to set aside the revenue from an acre next year as a contribution to the Allied cause in the war.

Mr. Patterson told the annual meeting of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool that it had been suggested the province should make "some contribution of good will to the Motherland" by having each farmer contribute the proceeds from a "patriotic acre."

The Premier said he felt the suggestion did not come early enough to make it effective this year, but "Government had some such idea in mind" and might ask Saskatchewan farmers next year for something along the lines of a "patriotic acre."

The Premier said he hoped there would be no repetition of the mistake of the first Great War in bringing land under cultivation which was not suitable to wheat growing. Canada could probably supply the food requirements of the Allies with the present acreage, he added.

Mr. Patterson said he did not think that in this war prices would go to the limits reached in the last conflict. However, he believed there would be some improvement in prices and markets.

CLAIM SUCCESS IN TRADE TALKS

German Report Completion of Negotiations to Buy Goods From Soviet Russia

MOSCOW, Nov. 1 (AP).—It was reported in "semi-official" German circles tonight that a Nazi economic delegation had successfully completed negotiations for purchase of major Russian items and was returning to Berlin tomorrow.

It was learned a separate group of German industrialists were in main in Moscow presumably until November 13, when Herr K. Behncke, German Foreign Office expert who headed the economic delegation, was expected to return here.

Despite the German claims of successful negotiations, it was rumored in diplomatic circles the Germans were encountering difficulties in their trade talks.

PARALLEL TALKS

Parallel to these talks on the international front there began today the informal round-table talks which Great Britain's War Cabinet is holding with representatives of the Empire.

Sinking of the Liverpool steamship Bronte and a British freighter east of Cuba today added nearly 10,000 tons to the total of more than 200,000 tons of British merchant shipping sent to the bottom since the war started.

The unnamed freighter presumably was the 3,670-ton Coulmore, which flashed word Tuesday night she had been attacked by a submarine in the Atlantic. The United States coast guard cutter Bibb, first on the scene, found no trace of her, and other vessels and planes searched the area unavailingly.

MINISTER BROADCASTS

In a broadcast tonight the Minister of Economic Warfare, R. H. Cross, said contraband intercepted by the Allies since the beginning of the war was considerably more than 500,000 tons. He defended Britain's inclusion of food in contraband since it was, he said, one of the most powerful of weapons.

Storm Causes Heavy Damage in Jamaica—One Man Drowned

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Nov. 1 (CP).—Raging seas flung up by the fringe of a tropical hurricane claimed one life in Northern Jamaica today and caused considerable damage to light shipping.

Reports from the storm-swept section tonight said one man drowned at Montego Bay when heavy seas swept into the tropical resort. Small boats there were damaged, while a number of banana barges at nearby Oracabessa were sunk.

WAVES SWEEP ISLAND

Waves smashed over coastal roads and the sea swept into farmers' fields. Damage to crops, however, was light.

Down but growers still were blown down for all the 17,000,000-stem crop has been harvested. The storm was reported heading toward Eastern Cuba from the Cayman Islands, to the westward of Jamaica. Forecasters said it was of hurricane force at the center.

Young Economist Is Appointed Head of McGill University

Prof. Frank Cyril James, Director of School of Commerce, to Become Principal and Vice-Chancellor at New Year

MONTREAL, Nov. 1 (CP).—Appointment of Prof. Frank Cyril James, distinguished economist, to succeed Lewis W. Douglas as principal and vice-chancellor of McGill University was announced today by the board of governors.

The appointment is effective January 1, when Mr. Douglas resigns to become president of a United States insurance firm in New York. His retirement was announced some months ago.

Announcement of Mr. James' appointment was made by Sir Edward Beatty, chancellor, who said in a statement that the appointee, director of the university's school of commerce since September, 1938, brings "a cosmopolitan understanding of the educational policies and public problems of two continents."

THIRTY-SIX YEARS OLD—Mr. James, a native of London, is thirty-six years old and is a British subject. He came to McGill from the United States, where he had held the post of vice-president of the First National Bank of Chicago for the purpose of studying the Chicago monetary market.

Noted as a scholar and author of books on economics, Mr. James took his degree in 1923 at the London School of Economics. He was appointed to the staff of Barclay's Bank and later that year won the Sir Ernest Cassell fellowship in economics, granted by the University of London for investigation of economic conditions in North America.

Mr. James traveled in North America for several months under terms of the award and then took up post-graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania, from which he received an arts degree in 1924 and a Ph.D. degree in 1926.

of direct negotiations with the United States.

The United States last made overtures to Canada for resumption of the long-standing negotiations for joint development of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterways and power resources in May, 1938.

NOT JUSTIFIED THEN—Mr. Hepburn claimed then that the huge project, involving an outlay of about $500,000,000, was not justified economically and the question rested there.

It is now stated Mr. Hepburn has decided power requirements, likely to develop from stimulated industrial activity in Canada due to the war, has changed the situation.

Right to divert water from the Hudson Bay watershed into Lake Superior, and to export surplus power, denied Mr. Hepburn two years ago and reported to be a condition to his present co-operation, now would be granted under the new proposals made by the United States in May, 1938.

It was learned here today President Roosevelt was advised some weeks ago that discussions were proceeding between the Federal and Ontario Governments, but there have been no direct negotiations with the United States authorities.

BRITAIN PUSHING TALK ON TRADE

Great Britain's inclusion of food in its contraband list charging that civilian populations should not be made to suffer in wartime.

"To exempt certain foods from our contraband list," Mr. Cross said, "would merely have the effect of prolonging the war, while an attempt to differentiate adequately between one kind of foodstuff and another would be most difficult."

"Of our total seizures so far, only 14 per cent would normally be classified as foodstuffs, but of this 9 per cent consists of commodities containing oils and fats, which the German Government could just as easily use for munitions."

"The choice between guns and butter has not been a mere metaphor to the Nazis. The German Government has been diverting its supplies of fats and oils, and has in consequence been starving the people of butter or its equivalent."

"Much of the other 5 per cent consists of cereals. These might be given to the German people as food, but they could also be conveyed into spirits for use in mechanical vehicles."

"Of the rest of the intercepted goods, 86 per cent of the total—in fact the overwhelming bulk of our seizures—have been materials which can be directly used for war purposes and cannot be used for food."

HUMANITY AT HOME

"Humanity begins at home. Think of the number of our soldiers and sailors and airmen who would lose their lives if we allowed the enemy to prolong a war which it was in our power to shorten. It would be the worst crime."

"To prolong the whole war unnecessarily is incomparably more cruel than to exercise economic pressure on a nation, and anything that increases the general store of supplies of a nation which otherwise would be suffering from shortage must tend to prolong the war."

"The German Government always has sufficient resources at its disposal to feed the German people if it chooses butter rather than guns and employs sufficient of its money and men on agricultural production," Mr. Cross said.

Mr. Menzies said that only circumstances rendering such action impracticable would prevent the expeditionary force, to be known as the "Second Australian Imperial Force," embarking for overseas as soon as it was trained.

headquarters in England, with Brigadier H. D. G. Crerar, recently commandant of Royal Military College at Kingston, Ont., in charge. Associated with him will be Lieut.-Col. E. L. M. Burns, attached to the office of the Canadian High Commissioner in London since the start of the war, and six other officers.

HOLDS VICTORIA CROSS

The Victoria Cross holder in the group is Brigadier G. R. Pearkes, of Calgary, a veteran of the old Royal Northwest Mounted Police, who will command the 2nd Infantry Brigade. He was promoted to the rank of major in May, 1918. He was mentioned in dispatches and was awarded the Distinguished Conduct Medal and the Military Cross and bar.

Besides the Victoria Cross the decorations worn by the six Division officers include six Distinguished Service Orders, twelve Military Crosses and two Distinguished Conduct Medals.

No less than sixteen of the twenty-four officers began their military service in the ranks. Thus they know the feelings and the needs of the man who carries the rifle. Some of these won their commissions on the field in the first Great War, others in the non-permanent militia prior to 1914.

The selection draws seventeen officers from the permanent force and seven from the non-permanent active militia.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning

The liver should pour out two pounds of bile into your bowels daily. If this bile does not flow freely, your food does not digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harshness grips the bowels, and you feel sour, sick and the world looks pink. A more powerful movement down the bowels gets at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes time, good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel up and up. Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of a dozen laxatives but have no harmful effect on them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. It's liberally refused everywhere else. 25c.

REFUGEES TELL OF ATROCITIES

British Government Charges Against Nazis Confirmed By Tribunal

LONDON, Nov. 1 (CP).—Confirmation of the stories of atrocities in Nazi concentration camps contained in the Government White Paper is given in a letter to The Times today from members of the special tribunal, sitting at Richbury Camp in Kent, to consider the cases of 3,600 refugees who became "enemy aliens" as a result of the declaration of war.

The letter was signed by Sir George Bonner, former King's Remembrancer and senior master of the Supreme Court, King's Bench division; Tristram Barendson, recorder of Folkestone; Trevor Hunter, chancellor of the diocese of Swansea and Brecon; Walter Blake Rodgers, recorder of Southampton; M. Sinden, barrister; and John Henry Thorpe, recorder of Blackburn.

REFUGEES WARNED

The letter said all the refugees received warnings on leaving the camps never to tell what they had seen and suffered.

"We heard of cases where arrests of a father was followed in a few days by notification that he was in prison or in a concentration camp, the locality of which was not specified," the letter said. "The report followed later that he had died in due course a box purporting to contain his remains was brought to the house with a demand for 500 marks 'for cremation expense.' No particulars as to the cause of death were forthcoming, nor was there any certainty as to the identity of the remains."

"In one case a widow, who had undergone this terrible experience, was arrested six months later on a charge of 'making propaganda with her husband's ashes.' She was released later, we were told, and the witness added 'one eye was gone.'"

HERDED IN WAGON

"When traveling in trucks or wagons there were as many as thirty or forty in one wagon. On journeys which were taken from May to December, 1938, and which at different times varied in duration from fourteen to sixteen hours, they were given no water or food."

"Every one of these men had heard rifle shots, or had seen men shot down on one specific journey three men in one wagon were shot and their bodies thrown out of the windows because they complained of the heat. On this journey we are satisfied that at least seven men were murdered on the way."

According to testimony received by the tribunal, young and old upon arrival at concentration camps were beaten with sticks or prodded with bayonets.

"One man was told by a guard to strike with his spade a friend who was formerly a judge and had sentenced two Nazis to death for criminal offences. The witness said he refused to do it. He was immediately bayoneted in the arm. Soon afterward the judge died in the camp."

wonders of the Rockies, accessible now through Jasper and other parks. Mr. King endorsed Canada's effort in the war, and said that the people would look forward to brighter days, when a just peace could be established, and Europe be reclaimed as a land in which wars would be outlawed, and nations work together in amity and accord.

Speaking as mover of the address, Mr. King gave the House what may be a Government intimation that the Alaska highway project is quieted for the present. He appealed, however, for eventual action on the construction of the road.

REFUGEES HAPPY

Seconding the address, Mr. Braden extended his remarks on the Sudeten German refugees now settled in British Columbia. He told how German children had greeted the Governor-General last summer with the National Anthem, sung in broken English; of the manifest delight of adult settlers at the freedom from espionage by the Nazi secret police, and constant fear of concentration camps. He drew a laugh when he said that Continental children, accustomed to five small meals a day, had found some difficulty in getting used to Canada's three-a-day system. Two schools had been built for the settlers already.

Experienced watchmakers, trained craftsmen in many other industrial arts, and a sober, peace-loving people made up the group settled at Tupper and elsewhere in the province. Mr. Braden continued. For the most part, they were taking to farming, pleased with their new homes, and anxious to make a success of their fresh start in life, after great personal hardships overseas. Most of the group had spent four months in Scotland learning farm methods, he said.

Mr. Braden commended the Government for its intention to drill for oil in the Peace River, citing private exploration on the Alberta side of the boundary, and what he said was the belief of oil men that British Columbia's search might prove to be successful. "One firm," he said, had spent $75,000 in exploration in the same general area, near Pouce Coupe.

That brought the House to adjournment on its first working day. The House rising at 3:25 p.m., until 3 p.m. tomorrow.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 1 (CP).—Britain's pet canaries, parrots and other pet birds are faced with a serious food shortage because the bird food trade which amounts to $500,000 (about $2,000,000) annually has been brought to a standstill by the war through a ban on direct imports.

Authoritative quarters said the decree was not directed against the liberty of the press and that no action was contemplated toward suppression of any publications.

Premier Jan de Geer threatened yesterday that martial law might be used to prevent circulation of organs of The Netherlands National Socialist party.

Under the decree the military is empowered to suspend all civil functions, but officials said military measures would be taken only in case of emergency.

Look! He's at it again! Mr. Moyster belongs to the large army of called-to-the-telephone marchers. For the empty-ninth time today he's wanted on the telephone, and unfortunately there's only one telephone in the office. It's on the desk of Mr. Toodler at the end of the room farthest from Mr. Moyster's desk. Of course, Mr. Moyster's calls are business calls, but the endless marching up and down wastes time—Mr. Moyster's time and the time of the firm for which he works. The obvious solution is to have an EXTENSION TELEPHONE on Mr. Moyster's desk.

Roosevelt Responds To Molotoff Charges Of U.S. Interference

President Gives Details of Russian Response to Appeals on Behalf of Finland—Soviet in Sympathy With Proposals Submitted

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP).—President Roosevelt, who has been criticized by Russian Premier Molotoff for "intervening" for Finland, dug up and reissued tonight an official record which recalled Russia had given "profound sympathy" only six months ago to its efforts to prevent attacks on Finland, Poland and other European nations.

Mr. Roosevelt's action apparently views with regard to my efforts on behalf of world peace are similar to those expressed to me by the heads of numerous other states.

In those three documents—the message to Hitler, and the Roosevelt and Kalinin cablegrams—the President found his reply to Molotoff today.

MOLOTOFF'S CHARGE

"The Russian Premier had accused him yesterday of mixing in the Finnish-Soviet negotiations in 'contradiction' of the United States' neutrality policy."

Hitler made no formal reply to that message, which the White House made public last April 15. But it was on April 16 that Kalinin sent his note to President Roosevelt. Mr. Roosevelt replied five days later.

While State Department officials indicated there was no significance in the fact, the Finnish minister to the United States, Hjalmar Procope, was calling at the department today almost at the time the White House was reissuing the three notices to the press.

Wheat Problems To Be Discussed

LONDON, Nov. 1 (CP).—Hon. T. A. Crean, Canada's Minister of Mines and Resources who heads the Dominion's delegation to the Empire discussions with the British War Cabinet, will discuss Canadian wheat problems with British authorities tomorrow.

Today was the first day of the talks.

The delegates are to be the guests of the Lord Mayor of London at luncheon tomorrow and in the afternoon will hold two sessions.

Mr. Roosevelt cabled a reply, saying he was "glad to learn that your

BLAME VIEWS ON RADICALS

Ontario Attorney-General Learns Ministerial Statement Made by Pacifists

TORONTO, Nov. 1 (CP).—Attorney-General Gordon Conant, of Ontario, declared today he had been told by a "reliable authority" that a statement expressing the pacifist views of the twenty-five members of the United Church of Canada was drawn up by a member of a "radical pacifist organization."

At the same time Mr. Conant told a group of heads of the United Church he had decided against prosecuting the seven ministers.

"So far as the statement itself is concerned, I am reliably informed it was prepared outside the province of Ontario and forwarded to a member of the group, who obtained the concurrence of the others and published it," the Attorney-General said.

MADE ON BROADWAY

"My information indicates the person who prepared this statement is a member of an organization known as the 'Fellowship of Reconciliation.' Furthermore, a reliable authority in such matters affirms this organization is a radical pacifist organization using the cloak of religion to spread Communist propaganda, and its 'head office' is on Broadway in New York."

Mr. Conant sent the statement to the Federal Department of Justice last week for an opinion on whether the ministers who signed it, expressing opposition to active participation in the war, were subject to prosecution under regulations of the Defence of Canada Act, regarding the prejudicing of recruiting.

Mr. Conant said he regarded the "altruistic against the war" statement as "particularly dangerous" in the present state of international affairs, but W. Stuart Edwards, Federal deputy minister of justice, had informed him that he doubted "very much if the effect of the statement is in the slightest degree likely to prejudice recruiting of His Majesty's forces."

PROVIDING REMEDY

"Public opinion will, and I suggest your church governing body should, render a sufficient verdict and provide the effective remedy," Mr. Conant said.

Present at the meeting in Queen's Park were Rt. Rev. Peter Bryce, last year's moderator of the United Church; Rev. Gordon A. Sisco, general secretary, and Rev. J. R. Mutch more, secretary of the Department of Social Service.

"Ordinarily, in such a situation, I would submit the matter to the court for jurisdiction," Mr. Conant said.

"However, we are at war and different considerations apply than would ordinarily be the case, and we must take a larger view of such matters."

"Unfortunately, this statement has obtained more than local distribution, having been referred to in the foreign press and on foreign broadcasts. It is not unlikely that any positive action on my part would receive equally widespread publicity. I am very much afraid prosecution might unduly magnify the incident and create a false impression abroad."

TRAINING FOR AIR ATTACKS

British Pilots Prepare for Day When Nazi Air-dromes Objective

WITH THE ROYAL AIR FORCE SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE, Nov. 1 (CP-Reuters).—The bronzed young pilots and crews of Great Britain and the Dominions are daily carrying out "shadow" attacks on their own airdromes in France. They are keeping in training for the destruction, when ordered, of Nazi airdromes, in anticipation of which extensive and highly successful reconnaissance was carried out over airdromes in Northern Germany this week.

Newsman witnessed today a low-flying bombing attack by the aircraft of one squadron, whose motor, "We sweep our enemy from the sky," is symbolized by a broom hung outside the operating tent.

Driving out of covering clouds, the bombers made an approach to the airdrome that was to be their target. They were lost to sight over the crest of a sharp rise in the ground. Then, with engines at full throttle they thundered suddenly in view, and as they broke formation, swept over three German objectives—a machine-gun post, a bomb dump and a line of grounded planes.

OVER IN SECONDS

Flying at far below operational level to give us a thrill, they demonstrated clearly their fighter plane manoeuvrability. It took them fifteen seconds to make short work of what might have been a tempting enemy warplane nest.

Pilot, juggling with rudder and aileron in double-quick time and with remarkable sureness of eye, varied the height and direction of every one of those seconds so as to escape an imaginary hail of machine-gun bullets. They then climbed over the trees behind us with amazing ease, to be lost to sight again. They still kept close to the undulating earth beyond. Only a minute or so were they within range of anti-aircraft guns.

CAMOUFLAGE CHANGING

The camouflage of our secret airdromes behind the Maginot Line is now changing color with the passing of Autumn. As leaves scatter in the wind, leaving the trees bare of foliage, crops are brought in and the countryside generally loses its rich variety, so the coverings of sheds and aircraft establishments are altered in harmony.

Sticks and stems, some real, others painted, are now the vogue. Nets in which can be woven twigs and other brushwood have been hung over planes which must be left in the open ready for instant action.

NO CHANGE IN ITALIAN POLICY

MILAN, Italy, Nov. 1 (AP).—Premier Mussolini's newspaper, Il Popolo d'Italia, said today in an inspired editorial that no change in Italian policy was involved in Tuesday's Cabinet shake-up.

The article, featured on the first page, clearly was directed toward foreign interpretations of the Cabinet shift. Some of these interpretations were that Italy was veering away from Germany.

Il Popolo said that such foreign comment was "puerile" and proof that "liberal democratic mentality could not grasp the idea of a totalitarian regime wherein the tendencies of groups and persons do not exist, but only one political faith, one single orientation of ideas and men who even as leaders have above all pride in feeling themselves always faithful soldiers at the orders of one single will."

New York's William J. Reilly Tells What He Does With Some of Thousands He Inherited From Woman He Befriended

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP).—The man who inherited hundreds of thousands of dollars—when he had just 15 cents in his pockets—looked back on a year of luxury today and decided his biggest kick out of sudden riches was the transition from peanut gallery to ringside seats.

"Now when I want to see a fight, I just hop a plane . . . like I flew out to South Bend, Ind., to see Notre Dame play Georgia Tech," he said.

And no more seats behind the goal posts, like a million other poor suckers. I take my pals along and we sit on the fifty-yard line."

The miracle that changed the life of William J. Reilly, forty, a one-time Roxy Theatre usher, into a literal "life of Riley," has meant other things, too.

Reilly recalled the night he received his windfall when he was working as a $60-a-month storekeeper at the Bronx Veterans' Hospital.

The money came in a bequest from Mrs. Edna Moras Allin Elliott, a seventy-year-old widow, known as "champion movie fan of New York," who specified in her will that it was for "his kindly and courteous acts," and for making "the recent years of my life more pleasant."

She died in September, 1938, leaving a net estate of $569,905, including more than $500,000 to the former movie usher and $53,000 to Rosalie Spatcher, a Radio City music hall dancer.

NO SIGN FOUND

The coast guard cutter Bibb, one of a number of craft searching for the Coulmore, reached her position this morning but found no sign of the 3,670-ton freighter or of survivors. Thirty-four men and the captain's wife were aboard.

The navy joined the quest with the cryptic comment that its ships were helping in "saving life at sea." The number of navy vessels sent out was unannounced.

The Coulmore sent off her distress calls last night. Shore stations heard them faintly at 10:30 p.m. (E.S.T.), and they became plainer until 1:38 a.m., when nothing more was heard.

1940 models! Sleek, luxurious, streamlined—the center of attention on every Display Floor. But, when you buy a car—any car—the center of your investment is that car's engine. The engine is the "auto" in every automobile. Protect that investment by keeping your engine completely lubricated. And the best way to do that is to use an oil that keeps your engine clean.

That's the whole problem of motor lubrication. And because RPM Motor Oil does completely lubricate and does keep your engine clean—and does it more efficiently than any other oil we know of—we say "no finer oil can be bought by any motorist anywhere today at any price, regardless of crude source or method of manufacture."

You drive no half-hearted horsepower when you lubricate with "RPM". Instead, your motor gives peak-power performance and longer worry-free running—at lower all-around operating cost.

Whatever car you own or buy, that's the "number one" car for you. Keep it "number one" with TODAY'S NUMBER ONE MOTOR OIL BUY—"RPM".

A BLOOD-RED PAPER

The British White Paper describing atrocities in German prison camps is a reflection on civilization itself. No such exposures have been made in recent years, apart from Russia's "liquidation" of political opponents of the Soviet Government from time to time, and the savagery of the Czarist regime in that land were exterminated. The German official mind, as exemplified in the prison camps, shows a ferocity in cruelty that could not have been emulated by cave men. It is a reversion to the horrors of the darkest age in the history of mankind and shows totalitarianism in practice in a fiendish light. What was done in the prison camps, what perhaps is still done, could not have been done unless sanctioned by the Government in power. Thus Hitlerism is indicted on a new count, one that will arouse horror in the minds of all with even primal humanitarianism.

It had been thought that the time had passed by when such bestial passions as are portrayed could have been let loose by any Government of a great nation. In respect to her "liquidations" Russia has been regarded in every self-respecting mind, as a pariah amongst the peoples of the world. With all the ruthlessness of the German regime there was little thought anywhere that the doctrine of official revenge could have gone to such lengths as are illustrated in the White Paper, especially in a country which has been and still is a world leader in art, science and literature, as well as in many other of those endeavors that are regarded as assets in the forward march of civilization. It is unthinkable, indeed, that the German people as a whole could condone such happenings. They are the product of a junta in power that must be possessed of a warped mentality. No disclosures of their kind could serve better to illustrate the character of the Government that Great Britain and France believe must be destroyed if there is to be peace in Europe.

The White Paper is a blood-red record of infamy and shame, an arraignment of a Government that will shock humanity, the more so as it is engaged in a war precipitated because of its wanton disregard of the decencies of international usage. The circulation of the White Paper in Germany will give the people there a new insight into the character of their regime. It will tell them, if they do not already know, the type of official mind that in its practices has outraged the law of nations, emulated the horrors of the Inquisition, and that remains a menace to the sanctity of what men and women of all countries hold in the highest esteem—liberty, and justice tempered with mercy.

NEW BRUNSWICK'S ELECTION

In the New Brunswick election, to be held on November 20, the issues, unlike the case of Quebec, will be purely provincial. The present Government of Mr. Dymally, upon dissolution, held thirty-nine seats while the Conservatives held only five and there were four vacancies. New Brunswick has adhered to the two-party system, and third parties make no inroads there. The last election was held four years ago last Summer and the impression is that, despite war conditions, provincial elections should be held as usual when considered advisable by the Governments in power.

The one issue in New Brunswick's campaign that fringes on national importance is the Government's attitude on amendments to the British North America Act. The question of provincial rights is being raised. The Province insists, and perhaps rightly, that no changes should be made without its consent. It has rested its case on what is called the "compact theory" of Confederation. In other words, the present Government is not prepared to consent to amendments to the British North America Act which are approved by two-thirds of the provinces or by a majority of the people of the Dominion. This issue led to the resignation last year of Mr. H. F. Bridges as Speaker of the Legislature. He disapproved of the Government's attitude on constitutional changes, describing them as "mere constitutional claptrap" and "dangerous doctrine." Thus, the only issue in New Brunswick that will prove of wide interest in the Dominion is the attitude of the people on constitutional amendments, if it can be determined from the result of the poll. Observers of the situation believe the Government will be returned to power, though perhaps with a reduced majority.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF CHEERFULNESS

It has often been said, and there is good support for the assertion, that Mr. Punch, by his unconquerable good humor, did as much as any one towards winning the Great War. The British people are fortunately endowed with a faculty all their own which enables them to be cheerful in the midst of trouble, and so to preserve a sense of proportion. The London Spectator as a journal which treats area, public questions in a serious manner, but it does not disdain to supply its readers with a crossword puzzle for mental relaxation. Lately, as a timely tonic and stimulant for cheerfulness, it has inaugurated a series of competitions intended to add something to the gaiety of nations.

Two of these have been completed and prizes awarded. It may be worth while to glance at some of the results. In one the contestants were asked to suggest appropriate inscriptions for certain specified buildings. In the result the prize inscription for "A Petrol Service Station" was a quotation from Antony and Cleopatra: "A rare spirit never did steer humanity." That for "An A. R. P. Shelter" was an extract from Terence which, being interpreted, runs: "So flee as not to be too far from your own home." The prize inscription for "A Cinema in an Evacuation Area" was derived from Seneca: "The earthward way to the stars is no easy one."

Prizes were also offered for the best letters, to a divisional petroleum officer, claiming a supplementary ration of petrol, the letters to be written in the epistolary style of certain specified authors. One of the prize letters was in the manner of Henry James. It asked for enough gas to fill a "lighter." In making the request the writer used 233 words arranged in two principal and thirteen qualifying clauses. His closing words were: "I simply beg you . . . to tell me . . . whether I, aged, infirm, out of the vast crowded political canvas as I am, may yet retain—practically and not as a mere fond memento of the kindest, most amiable of ladies—a small, gay, gorgeous object that goes, so I am told, in the huge, hideous undiscriminating world by the abrupt name of a 'lighter.'" The Spectator says that this is an admirable imitation of James. So it is, but the style is easier to write than to read.

The second prize went to an imitation of Mr. P. G. Wodehouse. Style is the man, according to the well-known dictum, and this competitor succeeded in reproducing not only the Wodehouse dialect but also the mentality and, more important, the sound moral sentiments of Bertie Wooster, who is at bottom all for law and order and ready to do the State some service. Anything else is bad form: "Not cricket, you know, war on women and children first and all that."

Two entries received, and certainly deserved, honorable mention. A lady competitor suggested "Spitting Strictly Prohibited" as a suitable inscription for the German Embassy. An imitation of Bernard Shaw's epistolary style appeared "on a haughty post card" stating, in reference to the petroleum ration, that Mr. Shaw was "quite capable of supplying an almost unlimited quantity of gas himself."

The results of the next two competitions, when published, should prove interesting. One is a description of the meeting of the Shades of recently-assassinated Russian and German army commanders. Another competition is the best propaganda leaflet to be dropped over Germany.

AIR FORCE RECRUITS

Lord Riverdale, head of the British Air Mission to this country, now engaged in arranging for the establishment of an Empire Air Training Centre in Canada, expresses the hope that within from fifteen to eighteen months there will be from 30,000 to 40,000 men in training for pilots, navigators, radio operators, observers and gunners. He does not say if this number will include the personnel of the ground crews, and he has not entered into other particulars of what is proposed. It is obvious that a scheme of considerable pretensions is planned and its details will be worked out within the next few weeks with the arrival at Ottawa of the representatives of Australia and New Zealand.

At this time, however, Canada should be in a position, knowing the scheme is going ahead, to increase recruiting for the Royal Canadian Air Force. It was officially announced from Ottawa many weeks ago that there were 25,000 names on the waiting list for enlistment. Thus there is no shortage of those who wish to join the Air Force of the Dominion. Seemingly there is some hesitation on the part of the Department of National Defence. Air-minded youths continue to leave Canada to join the Royal Air Force, and they continue to be accepted in that service. It should be possible for them to receive their training here, especially now that Canada is to become an Empire Air Training Centre.

Our country, in her intercourse with foreign nations may she always be in the right; but our country, right or wrong.—Stephen Decatur.

Ah! when shall all men's good be each man's curse, and universal peace be like a shaft of light across the land?—Tennyson.

Note and Comment

By SANDHAM GRAVES

Writing in the golden age of Elizabeth, Francis Bacon thought a little of the English language that some of his best work was composed in Latin; and he was making arrangements to put his chief works in that tongue when time overtook him, and his hands ran out. In his opinion Latin was the language that would survive. Notwithstanding that, Bacon made a use of English prose unmatched in his day and not often approached since. If he wrote with a cold, bitter mind, in which men appeared as fools to be used, if not also despised; if he quoted Machiavelli and endorsed some of the Florentine's views, perhaps life gave him some warrant, for he was as much caught in the mesh of his own circumstances as has been any before or since. Bacon's contributions to the tongue he deemed decadent and not likely to survive were many, but, in devaluation of thought and economy of words taught his day what he, the facts of the form. It was no doubt, from his Latin studies that Bacon learned both and used them in his profession at the bar. Excerpts from Bacon's essays have passed into the language to such an extent that men make use of his phrases without knowing that they do. Bacon, at all events, survived.

It comes as an ironical circumstance of time itself that the orderly, metrical and reasoning language of Latin has been supplanted to the extent that it has in the written records of today. Latin scholars of the Elizabethan days would not have chosen "splendor sine occasu" as the motto of this province; nor, if they had, would they have been put to such straits to find a meaning for it that would be a description of the Shades of recently-assassinated Russian and German army commanders. Another competition is the best propaganda leaflet to be dropped over Germany.

To those who have to speak or write in the English tongue, a study of Elizabethan models will show the richness from which we have fallen in less than four centuries. It is true that by proportion a greater number of people can read and write the basic simplicity behind their business done. It is not true, however, that this age is setting much of weight or importance upon the written records of all time; to speak of the twentieth century when it may no longer speak for itself in science, mechanics, and in some other ways this age will have much to contribute to the roll of the ages. In soundness of thought or beauty of expression it is falling far behind. If a Shakespeare or a Marlowe, a Bacon or a Spenser should be born now, the chances are that he would starve to death and not find time to put his thoughts on paper. Tip and run, a speech in Parliament. Tip and run, a work of "music." Tip and run, a "painting." Some day man will stop his running. Then he will begin to live.

JAPAN TO BUILD BIG NAVAL BASE

TOKIO, Nov. 1 (AP).—The navy announced that, effective December 1, it would establish at Maizuru, in the Sea of Japan, its fourth major naval base. It said that construction of the base, required under the first replenishment programme, already had been completed. Maizuru is on Wakasa Bay, south-east of Vladivostok. It will have full defence facilities, docks for construction, repair and training, arsenals, hospitals and quarters for a large personnel. Other such bases already are located at Yokohama on the Pacific Ocean near Yokohama; Kure Island on the Inland Sea; and Sasebo, on Kyushu, Island in the Tsushima Channel.

Y.M.C.A. Notes: The regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Young Men's Christian Association was held at the clubroom last night, with the vice-president, R. E. Skirne, in the chair. Reports were received from the various committees and officers, all going to show that good work is being done. The finance committee reported that $1,010 of the necessary $2,500 had been raised since October 12. A. C. Flummerfelt, Hon. John Robson and A. J. McLean each gave $100.

Fine Sport: Sir Michael Culme-Seymour, who arrived from the Mainland on Thursday night, has spent several weeks in the Interior where he has enjoyed excellent sport. Sir Michael is a dead shot, and one of the most successful sportsmen that has ever come to the province. The souvenir he will present to his friends of this latest trip into the wilds will be highly valued, since they are magnificent specimens.

Storm Off Cape Flattery: The British ship Leland Bros. arrived at Port Townsend on Thursday, and reports that the Mainland on Thursday night, when off Cape Flattery, heavy southwest gales and a high sea drove the ship in to shore, and everything was made ready and boats lowered to leave the vessel when the wind blew around and the vessel beat to windward.

TEMPERS FLARE IN PARLIAMENT

Pertinent Questions Asked And Answered During Debate in British House

LONDON, Nov. 1 (AP).—The House of Commons was dramatically disturbed today in the middle of a fiery debate on old age pensions when an elderly man in the public gallery shouted out:
"How can a man and his wife live on about $2.50 a week for the two of us?"

Ushers promptly invited him to leave.
Labor members were arguing that rising costs of living had plunged 3,000,000 old age pensioners into starvation conditions.

Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer, declared: "I think it is not correct to speak of old pensioners as starving."

"What do you know about starving?" Emanuel Shinwell, Labor, demanded.

"What do you know about starving?" Lady Astor asked Mr. Shinwell, a former Marine Workers' Union organizer.

"I know," said Mr. Shinwell to the American-born peers. "Do you know anything about it? It is not for people like you to answer."

Sir John said a pension investigation started last July, but suspended at the beginning of the war, would be resumed immediately, and he hoped it could be completed within two months.

The Labor motion, calling for an immediate improvement in old age pensions was defeated 246 to 144.

Glancing Over Sport
It looks as if the heavyweight boxing situation is going to be turned topsy-turvy if Harry Thomas, about a fifth rater, can prove his admissions that he took a couple of "dives" for Tony Galento and Max Baer.

Thomas says that he did, while the managers of both fighters state that Harry is still "punchy" from the beatings he took. One thing is certain and that is Harry never took a "diving" for a chip named Joe Louis.

The colored bomber blasted Thomas into the $10 seats in a little over a minute in Los Angeles. Nobody who goes into the "tank" with Louis does so after the Detroit destroyer hit him in one of his terrific rights or lefts; it makes no difference.

Football lost a grand man in the passing of Joe Bloom, manager of the Victoria City Club. Joe did a lot for soccer in this city in the past two decades. He helped the youngsters of the Victoria school students yesterday after season and many a footballer in this city owes his success to him. Joe even sponsored a juvenile baseball team two years ago and it won the city title.

Football will certainly miss him, but he helped the youngsters of the Victoria school students yesterday after season and many a footballer in this city owes his success to him. Joe even sponsored a juvenile baseball team two years ago and it won the city title.

AT CADBORO BAY
Sir—May I take this opportunity, through the columns of your paper, to express the sincere thanks of the young people of Cadboro Bay to all those who so kindly helped to make the Halloween bonfire such a great success by their generous donations of either money, prizes, cake, candy or fruit.

It is only through such kindnesses that any community affair can be successful for both young and old. Again, many thanks to all those who helped. WILLIAM INGLIS, Cadboro Bay P.O.

RICE BOWL FESTIVAL
Sir—On behalf of the Medical Aid for China Committee, the Canadian Friends of the Chinese People and the War Refugees Relief Committee, we wish to extend our deepest appreciation to the citizens of Victoria for their generous response to our Rice Bowl drive held October 26-28.

The result of the drive was most gratifying. The public gave very liberally to our tag day, and the festival was attended by capacity crowds. This remarkable achievement, made possible by the citizens of this city, will give substantial relief to thousands of starving and homeless in war areas—a fact which heartened us who worked actively for it.

To your paper and The Victoria Daily Times we wish to acknowledge most gratefully your valuable cooperation. To the many who contributed services and who donated goods and materials, we wish to express our heartfelt thanks for their part in helping to make the drive so successful. A special thanks is due to the Canadian Legion Band (Britannia Branch) for its fine programmes during the evenings, and also to the many talented artists who gave their excellent performances gratuitously during those three days.

WAR REFUGEES RELIEF COMMITTEE
Joseph Hope, Chairman.
K. C. Lowe, General Secretary.

INDIAN CHIEF IS LECTURER

School Children of City Are Entertained by Celebrated Mohawk Singer

Mellow-voiced, graceful of movement and picturesque in a handsome ceremonial dress of soft doe-skin, with a great mane of golden-egg feathers that swept the floor, Chief Oskonen, Indian chief of the Railroad Man Never Starts His Run Without Buckley's Mixture as Protection Against

COUGHS, COLDS

When railroad men who are exposed to rain, snow, and bitter freezing cold depend on Buckley's Mixture, you would be wise to follow their example. Mr. E. Harold, Moose Jaw, Sask., says: "I find Buckley's Mixture the finest cough remedy I have ever used, and never go out on the road without a bottle in my grip for protection against colds." Buckley's Mixture is a time-tested, proven remedy, used in thousands of Canadian homes whenever coughs, colds, grippe, bronchitis, etc., are troublesome. It eases the cough almost instantly, soothes the inflamed throat, expels phlegm, soothes the air ducts, corrects over-acidity. Don't experiment—Buy Buckley's.

CONVICTED IN NANAIMO COURT

Union Bay Chinese Found Guilty of Being in Possession of Opium

NANAIMO, November 1.—An assize court jury after two hours' deliberation, brought in a verdict of guilty on two charges of possession of opium against Mah Fu Shing, otherwise known as Charlie Mah Jong, at Union Bay last April, where he had conducted a general store for the past thirty-two years.

The narcotics were discovered following a raid by R.C.M.P. officers who arrived from the Mainland on a car and motored to a Chinese bungalow managed by the accused, where, according to their evidence, they found the Chinaman lying on a bunk in a small room with a peanut oil lamp burning on the bed, and an opium pipe in his mouth. The narcotic squad upon searching him, found two keys which fitted another room, where the opium was found.

Mah Fu Shing, through an interpreter, swore he did not even know what an opium pipe looked like, that he had only held a lighted cigarette in his mouth in a cigarette holder when the police forced their way into the bungalow room. He named two Chinese, since disappeared, as the men whom he suspected had "planted" opium found in his vest pocket and owned the two keys.

He was ordered held in custody by Justice E. I. Fisher until the end of the assizes when sentence will be passed.

FUNERAL ON THURSDAY
DUNCAN, Nov. 1.—Funeral services for Hugh Clark, who died in the Duncan Hospital on Monday from injuries received in an accident on the Hillcrest Logging Railway, will be held at the Davis Funeral Parlor on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with interment at the Mountain View Cemetery, Somenos.

Rev. W. F. Burns will conduct the service. Mr. Clark was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Clark, Charlotte Street, Duncan. Besides his parents, he is survived by his wife and son, Jack, at Hillcrest, and two brothers, W. A. Clark, of Duncan, and J. R. Clark, residing at Juneau, Alaska.

HAS FIRST BLACKOUT
TROMHEIM, Norway, Nov. 2 (Thursday) (AP)—This city of 500,000 held its first air raid defence blackout last night from 4 p.m. until 5 a.m. One of two patrolling planes observing the result crashed into the sea, but the crew of two was rescued.

LONDON, Nov. 1 (CP)—The Board of Trade announced tonight that, barring minor cases, no import licences will be granted for clothing or other manufactured goods made of cotton, wool, silk, artificial silk or linen. The ruling does not apply to French products.

QUEST TOO PRACTICAL
BOSTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—A graduate student at a local university became so interested in the theme of his thesis that he tried it out on himself. That was the case of a student at the University of Massachusetts, who tried to confine his work to the abstract. The subject of the thesis was "alcoholism."

Goat-Guarded Fortress— Grade-A "Sarpint"— Up-Anchor and Away— En Route for Rio

By Spy

Yesterday's writings left me growing about Venezuelan banking methods, and gazing up at a fort from the sun-cracked mud causeway skirting the cemetery at Porto Cabello.

The ascent to this proved perpendicular and occupied an hour's most heart-breaking climbing. A flat spot on the summit showed a tumble-down house and an extraordinary number of goats. As some of them had real "pitch-fork" horns, it seemed, somehow, that one should not disturb them. So a circuit was made, which went wide of the tumble-down house and well on the way to the ancient fortress. Suddenly, in the midst of this rather cowardly progress, a voice yelled "Hoy!" It came from the ram-shackle house, whence a uniformed person emerged, obviously in revolutionary mood.

"Where you go?" he said gruffly. "I go fort," I pointed its direction.

"No, no, no," quite violently.

"Why?"

"No, no," he shouted. Then after some rude scrutiny he scratched his head and said, "Come." Then he led to a low adobe building, on the veranda of which he spoke tensely with certain things in uniform which were obviously general, or even greater. Presently he motioned me up. Then a blackish, pie-faced individual with three front teeth missing lisped, "What you do here? Where you come from?"

"I come from boat . . . in transit . . . I like see fort."

"No," he smirked. "You Americanos can no see fort . . . it is government."

"I no Americano, I Canadian," I argued. "I plenty hot . . . I walk long time . . . I like see fort."

"I no care how hot . . . or how long you walk," he retorted, with his sleazy "minus-three-fruits" leer. "You see no fort . . . it is government."

"I no hurt fort," I attested, frowning. "I just like see."

"You no see" this smart-faced polly-wog said vehemently. "You on army look now, and you like see I can put you in jail. Ha, ha! You can go back, please . . . quickly . . . the way you came."

With that he bowed mockingly and re-entered the building.

That was the end of the Venezuelan. Any kind of official there was about as agreeable as a bad "hang-over," and everything, of course, was "government." That dirty old fort wasn't worth a blight-pocked parsnip to a dead donkey . . . still it was "government," and whatever important secrets it concealed were certainly not going to be tampered with by a low Canadian spy off a French liner!

So back through the goats . . . (they fitted well with that particular portion of the Venezuelan army) . . . and down the hill I retreated, in hopes of something pleasant in the near future.

And strange to say, it arrived. That's to say, at least a bit of the "Grand Adventure" suddenly appeared, and it was a galling shame that the pith helmet, mosquito-netting, and the good Mauser were not in readiness to greet it. For about a mile along a road cut through the really stiff jungle, a small boy on donkey back had halted in the middle of a bend, jibbering and pointing to the thick stuff bordering the road.

I peered . . . and, by the powers, there lurked a snake which must have been in class A . . . If snakes have any ranking at all in Venezuela, he (or possibly she) was seven feet long . . . about as thick as an average liver-wurst sausage . . . and black and shiny like a wet rubber hose. It moved slowly, with head raised about six inches, and after every few feet or so it would stop, look and listen.

His hesitancy suggested that it was a little bit frightened, and this was encouragement enough to sneak up for a close-up. But, in the act of sneaking, a third person came shuffling up the road, who on seeing that black sinuous length of live poison immediately began grinning and then picked up a large stone. With this he plugged the snake amidships . . . thud! For a tense second or two it stayed twisting its body, and rather foolishly stabbing the air with its inch-long blue-black fangs. Then suddenly it appeared to have made up its mind and fairly whipped off, through the grass, into denser jungle.

That was quite a "moment" . . . in fact, my first real "moment" since descending upon the tropics. That snake may have been deadlier than the viper or the green mamba . . . on the other hand, it may have been the sort of thing you could have left in "Junior's" bassinet while you went off to bed—but I doubt it.

At any rate, I feel positive that I can present that slick black "sarpint" to the world as "an exceedingly handsome specimen of the XYZ variety"—but I'll also garnish it with "Poison" and a skull and cross-bones just below.

Porto Cabello was a delightful place to leave, and that's about the best I can do for it. School Marm, too, was quite snifty about it; said she'd seen greater things in the morgues "way back in old L.A." and even the Bonis's propellers seemed to lash up a certain amount of scorn and defiance as she roamed away from Porto Cabello.

Said Sonia seemed to be making a fresh profit about every half hour. In fact, I hardly found time to rush from the gangplank to the lounge ('twixt sailings for the furthering of this narrative . . . nevertheless, with the aid of School Marm's little urgings to "go right ahead and write it down before you forget it all," and her amazing knack of extorting large pots of coffee from the stewards, who were practically on the eve of a great revolt on account of my half-hourly barking for that stimulating libation, I managed to smother at least a few pages with fine wordage—for which doubtless you are all now gravely blessing me. But pray don't mention it—just hang on to your hats and shawls while I tow you further southward unto La Guira—pronounced "La Wira." If you insist on a lesson in the best of Spanish.

DISPOSES OF SOLAR MYTHS

Astronomical Society Hears
Address Dealing With Popular Fallacies

A number of astronomical fallacies common to the public mind were wittily disposed of in an interesting address given by Miss Phoebe Riddle last night, at a meeting of the Victoria Centre of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, held in the Y.M.C.A. Building.

Miss Riddle dealt particularly with those misconceptions relative to the moon and other members of the solar system. She pointed out, for instance, that an eclipse of the sun is not such a rare occurrence as is commonly believed, and stated that in favorable circumstances, seven eclipses could occur in any one year—two of the moon and five of the sun. In this century there will be no fewer than 375 eclipses, she said.

EARTH FARTHER AWAY
Using a diagram to illustrate her point, she showed that, contrary to common opinion, the earth is farther away from the sun in Summer than it is in Winter. She explained that because the rays of the sun reach the earth slantwise in Winter, considerably less heat strikes the earth's surface.

Another fallacy Miss Riddle exposed was the belief that changes of the moon caused changes in the weather. She pointed out that when a new moon occurs it is new moon for all the earth, whereas the weather may be entirely different at different parts of the earth's surface.

Stating that if there had been any connection between the two, meteorologists would long since have used the moon's changes in making their predictions, Miss Riddle reminded her hearers that a change of moon occurs once a week, while the weather may change several times in a week. The moon does have an effect on the tides of the earth, however, she said.

FEW STARS VISIBLE
Miss Riddle also discussed the common observation made by people who look at a clear evening sky and remark on the "millions" of stars visible to the eye. Actually, she said, there are only about 5,000 stars visible to the naked eye in both hemispheres, so that only half that number can be seen by anyone without mechanical aid. Several other fallacies were also dealt with, both of a popular nature and those more specifically astronomical in character.

Dr. R. M. Pettie, vice-president of the Victoria Centre, made chairman of the meeting, and spoke briefly on the celestial activity to be expected during the forthcoming month.

Representatives of Three Foreign Governments Have Interviews
With Mackenzie King

OTTAWA, Nov. 1 (CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King today received in his East Block office the diplomatic representatives of three foreign governments and two members of the Australian air mission.

E. H. Groenman, minister of the Netherlands, was the first to chat with the Prime Minister, following which Victor Podolski, new Polish Consul-General, and the Marchese Rossi-Longi, Italian Consul-General, had separate interviews.

When the diplomats left, Hon. J. W. Fairbairn, Australian Minister of Civil Aviation and head of the Australian mission here for the Empire air training conferences, conferred with Mr. Mackenzie King. Mr. Fairbairn was accompanied by another member of the mission, Wing Commander George Jones.

SHAFT BURNED OUT IN HISTORIC CAMP

TONOPAH, Nev., Nov. 1 (AP)—All mines in this historic silver camp were closed today as a fire in the Belmont shaft, and tunnels roared out of control.

Mine officials said the entire shaft to a depth of 1,300 feet had been burned out. They estimated damage to surface buildings at up to $100,000.

First Director—Weren't you surprised when they offered you the chairmanship?

Second Director—I should say I was. I almost forgot the speech of thanks I had prepared.

★ UNITY OF CANADA ★

NEW BRUNSWICK Land of Beauty

★ NATIONAL UNITY is vital to success of Canada's War Effort

This series of advertisements was initiated many months prior to the outbreak of war. Its theme "Unity of Canada" was prophetic; a message that today is more vital than ever to all Canadians.

For in Unity lies the strength of the Dominion, and we, of the Automotive Industries, accept our full responsibility in working as well as writing towards this end.

Now, more than ever before, our plants and highly specialized equipment are Dominion assets; our skilled workmen, vital cogs in the wartime industrial set-up in which the production of units of transport looms more important than ever.

So remember, when you buy a Canadian-Built car, you are helping support an industry that distributes more than $22,000,000.00 in wages and salaries to many thousands of families dependent on the industry itself. Add to these the families that are supported by industries supplying raw and finished materials to the Automotive manufacturers, and you get an idea of what this activity means to the Canadian Home Market.

A busy Automotive Industry in wartime is a live asset indeed—a truly national war enterprise.

Hon. A. A. DYSART
Premier of New Brunswick

NEW BRUNSWICK OFFERS EVERY AID IN EMPIRE'S STRUGGLE

"In the gigantic struggle upon which Canada has embarked by the side of the Mother Country, New Brunswick offers every assistance in the home that her contribution will help to strengthen the hand of the British Empire that she and her allies will emerge victorious over the forces of lawlessness and aggression. Worthy sons of courageous fathers who served King and Country in the Great War are already offering themselves in their thousands. The great natural resources of New Brunswick, her farm products, the rich harvest of her forests, her fish, her minerals, are at the disposal of the Mother. Her silver ocean ports of Saint John and Miramichi are ready to handle the great stream of goods which will pour through from all over Canada to help the Motherland in her hour of great necessity. New Brunswick in the past has taken sacred place in none in her loyalty to the British flag and the British tradition—she is prepared to demonstrate this devotion to the world."

A. A. DYSART, Premier.

Do Your Part in Relieving Misery

Victoria is making its great effort once again—this year the appeal is not only for funds for community relief purposes, but for national Red Cross needs.

YOUR contribution is asked to provide food, clothing, shelter and medical aid for the needy.

YOUR contribution will be spent wisely, not only to fill immediate needs such as food and clothing, but also to correct the causes of such privation—families are helped to get back on their feet, to become active working and producing units once again.

CONTRIBUTE all you can afford. It's not how much each individual gives that counts, but the fact that everyone does give!

SHINGLE EXPORTS TO U.S. SUSPENDED

Shipments to Be Stopped From November 11 to January 1—Quota for Year Is Filled

VANCOUVER, Nov. 1 (CP).—Suspension of shingle shipments to the United States from November 11 to January 1, 1940, was announced today by the Consolidated Shingle Association of British Columbia. Reason for the suspension is fulfillment of the quota under the Canada-United States trade agreement of 1938.

The announcement said: "It is estimated that by November 11, 1939, the quota granted in the Canada-United States trade agreement of 1938 will be slightly overfilled."

"With the hope that none of their United States customers will be seriously inconvenienced, 95 per cent of British Columbia shingle mills voluntarily decide to cease shipment of shingles from the period November 11, 1939, to January 1, 1940. Also, in many mills there is curtailment."

"Otherwise, shingles would become a tariff item and excess shipments would incur an ad valorem tariff levied by the United States Government."

COLDS
Don't Upset Stomach By Drastic Dosing
Taking strong medicines into the stomach for colds may add to the misery by upsetting digestion. That's why 1 out of 3 Canadian mothers treat colds externally with Vicks VapoRub.

Just rubbed on throat, chest and back at bedtime, VapoRub acts on the skin like a warming poultice and—at the same time—gives off soothing medicated vapours that are breathed direct into the irritated air passages. Often by morning most of the misery of the cold is gone.

DOG TEAM GOES TO AID COUPLE
ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Nov. 1 (AP).—Under difficult winter conditions, two men "mashed" a dog team over the snow-covered wastes of Interior Alaska today, to rescue a mother and seventeen-day-old baby for whom concern was expressed after two nights in a stranded airplane.

Anxiety arose over the health of Mrs. Beckman and her infant daughter after the temperature dropped last night to four degrees above zero.

Pilot Jimmy Dodson and Ole Blumhert, a passenger, were with them at the little lake where a snowstorm forced Dodson's plane down on Monday.

MUST BREAK TRAIL
Progress of the dog team was reported slow because one man had to go ahead to break trail with snowshoes. For the twelve-mile trip a year to a mine operator at Ophir, in Interior Western Alaska, the party was forced to take an around-about twenty-five-mile river course.

Additional supplies were dropped from the air to the stranded couple today.

Mrs. Beckman, about twenty-six, has been married a little more than a year to a mine operator at Ophir, in Interior Western Alaska. She was flying home from the Fairbanks Hospital with her baby when the plane was forced down.

German Soldiers Reported Executed for Killing of Former Commander

BUCHAREST, Nov. 1 (CP-Havas).—Sources regarded as being well-informed on German affairs claimed tonight that three soldiers were executed in Germany last week for the "assassination" of Col. Gen. Werner von Fritsch during the Reich's campaign in Poland.

The official German version of Von Fritsch's death was that he was killed in the fighting outside Warsaw while on a reconnaissance patrol. No explanation was ever given how a military man of General Von Fritsch's standing was participating in such a patrol.

The reports circulating here were interpreted in some quarters as indicating Von Fritsch had been killed because he was known to have differed radically with other German leaders, particularly Adolf Hitler. Refugee circles suggested the three soldiers executed might have been made "scapegoats" in the affair.

FORMER COMMANDER

Von Fritsch, former commander-in-chief of the German Army, resigned February 3, 1938, in an army shake-up and was replaced by General Walther von Brauchitsch. On June 15, 1938, he was given an honorary post as head of the 12th Artillery Regiment at Schwerin. When Germany invaded Poland he went to the Polish front with his men.

Czech spokesmen in Bucharest tonight claimed at least sixty persons were killed during German repression and ceremonies in connection with the Czech-Slovak national holiday in Prague last week. They said police and Hitler elite guards also fired into crowds demonstrating at Pilsen and Tabor, but no reports have yet been obtained on the number of casualties at those cities.

The spokesmen also said German troops ordered to Pilsen mutilated the demonstrators.

Vaclav Klotek, chief of the former Czech-Slovak National Socialist party and War Minister in the first Czech-Slovak Government in 1918, was said to have died in the Milovice concentration camp on the outskirts of Prague.

TELLS STORY OF SHIP'S SINKING

Norwegian Seaman Gives Details of Destruction of Vessel

LONDON, Nov. 2 (CP).—The Oslo correspondent of The Daily Mail quoted a seaman of the Norwegian vessel Lorentz-W. Hansen, 1918 tons, which sailed from Newcastle, N.B., October 8, as saying the vessel was sunk by the German pocket battleship Deutschland 350 miles off the coast of Newfoundland.

Although news of the vessel's sinking was brought to Norway a little more than a week ago, this was the first detailed account of how it went down.

The unidentified seaman told The Mail correspondent that when the Hansen failed to sink under the Deutschland's gunfire, the battleship sent a torpedo to dispatch her.

EXPENSIVE JOB
"One torpedo is worth more than your paltry ship," the seaman quoted a German officer as saying angrily to the crew, who had been taken aboard the battleship. The timber-laden Hansen was bound for England. The raider, after ordering the crew to abandon the vessel and forbidding use of its wireless, began to shell her. The crew was first given ten minutes to leave, but after a protest was allowed half an hour.

The German officers shook hands with the Hansen captain, politely expressing regret at having to sink the ship, and began operations.

The Mail quoted the seaman as saying: "The first intention was to sink our ship with firebombs and then gunfire, making it as cheap as possible. But when two hours afterwards she was still floating, a torpedo had to be used."

The crew of twenty-one was put aboard a Norwegian tanker, the Kingsdal. No lives were lost, the seaman said.

WAS NOTED FOR "BIRD PARADISE"

Charles E. Jones Dies at Vancouver—Was Friend and Lover of Birds

VANCOUVER, Nov. 1 (CP).—Charles E. Jones, sixty-one, known throughout the continent for his "bird paradise" here, died yesterday, just two months after he closed his aviary where he kept almost 500 birds.

Mr. Jones was born in England and came to Vancouver in 1906 after living two years in Winnipeg. Birds were a boyhood hobby with him. He resumed the hobby in 1926 after his retirement from the Canadian customs service.

The bird paradise was started eight years ago and was run at his own expense.

Birds from Africa, Italy, Australia, Japan and China were imported by him. Some were so tame their antics were a source of amusement to visitors.

His greatest wish was to move the sanctuary to Stanley Park, but arrangements could not be made and the paradise closed to visitors September 1.

Miss Mysie Perry Bride
Of Mr. G. Weeks-Little

Very Rev. Spencer H. Elliott, D.D., Dean of Columbia, officiated at the marriage of Mysie Gwyneth, only daughter of the late Major C. Perry, and Mrs. G. Chapman, Pandora Avenue, and Mr. George Grandson Weeks-Little, only son of Mr. and Mrs. George Little, Inverness Street, which was solemnized in Christ Church Cathedral last evening at 8 o'clock in the presence of a large congregation. Mr. Stanley Bulley presided at the organ.

The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Marcus Phillip Perry, and wore a frock of white chiffon with a long train, the neckline outlined with smoking. A fitted jacket of smoked chiffon, and a long filmy veil, worn over her face, attached to a coronet of orange blossoms, completed the ensemble. The bride carried a sheaf of Calla lilies.

BRIDAL RETINUE
Miss Jean Mackay, the maid of honor, wore a frock of turquoise blue silk net with a ruffled jacket, and a pink picture hat, and the bridesmaids, Misses Jessie Maalen, Dorothy Robinson, Ethel Ratcliffe and Mae Dumberton, were in frocks of wild rose pink chiffon, with shirred jackets. They wore hats of pink and blue frilled tulle trimmed with pink roses and tied with pink ribbon with long ends. All five carried bouquets of mauve and white chrysanthemums.

Little Ruth Hensworth was the flower girl, in a Kate Greenaway frock of pale yellow taffeta, worn with a doll hat of matching tulle, and carried a basket of rose petals. Four-year-old Billy Mackay, wearing his kilt, was train bearer. The bridegroom, who is a private in the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps, was supported by Private Wilfred Armstrong, the ushers being Sergeants Hugh Watkins, Sydney Western, Daryl Pringle and Edward Merriman, members of the corps, all being in uniform. During the service the bride and groom stood between palms and baskets of chrysanthemums.

About one hundred guests, including several from Vancouver, were entertained by Mrs. Chapman at the Y.W.C.A., where music and dancing were enjoyed. The bride's cousin, Miss Edwina Wilcox, North Vancouver, played piano solos, and Mr. Thomas Maurice sang "O Promise Me" and the "Kerry Dancers."

Mrs. Chapman was dressed in black and silver chiffon, with a broad cape and a black hat, and Mrs. Little wore a blue and wine ensemble. During the reception the bride and groom stood under a floral arch and bell. Supper was served at a table decorated with pink candles and vases of pink and white flowers, and centred with the bride's cake. After a honeymoon on the Mainland, for which the bride left in a carse outfit and a grey lamb coat, Mr. and Mrs. Weeks-Little will return to live in Victoria.

SCOTTIE TEA TOWELS—DESIGN No. 632

One of the biggest stacks of requests on my desk contains your letter asking for a "simple dog design for kitchen towels." Since ours is a Scottie, we decided to show him off by using him as our model. He doesn't actually carry a parol, but we do think he makes a grand decoration for these easy-to-work designs. Don't you?

The pattern includes transfers of the designs, material requirements, color and stitch charts, and keys and diagrams for stitches.

Clubs-Societies

Baptist Mission Circle

The Junior Baptist Church sponsored a Halloween penny fair recently in the church hall. Halloween decorations were carried out effectively. Miss Gladys Rowley, the president, was in charge of the programme, and Miss Opal Abercrombie was the general convenor. An attractive candy and novelty stall was in charge of Miss Vera Browning, and Miss Evelyn Rhodes "bran pie." Miss Vera Parfitt and Miss Beryl Earl had charge of the games, and Miss Mary Wilson, assisted by Miss Edna Kirkbride, showed interesting motion pictures. Other attractions on the programme included novelty numbers by Misses Joan Hazel and Vera Pearson, vocal solos by Miss Vera Parfitt, elocution by Miss Opal Abercrombie, and instrumental music by Miss Margaret Spence, Miss Lillian Parfitt and Miss Florence Rowley. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening, under the direction of Miss Irene Scoble and Miss Mary Hancock.

Daughters of England

Princess Margaret Rose Lodge No. 40, Juvenile Daughters of England, met recently in the S.O.E. Hall, Miss Edna Maymirth presiding. Plans for the Christmas bazaar to take place in the S.O.E. Hall on Saturday, November 18, at 2:30 p.m., were reported to be well in hand. The next meeting will be held in the same hall on Wednesday, November 22, at 6:30 p.m., after which Mr. J. A. McVie will show moving pictures. "The proceeds will be given to the children's Christmas tree fund."

Spiritualist Tea

The committee of the First Spiritualist Church will hold a silver tea tomorrow afternoon in the S.O.E. Hall, 1216 Broad Street, from 2:30 till 5 o'clock. Mrs. C. P. Milne, the convenor, will be assisted by Mrs. E. R. Etheridge and Mrs. E. F. Thompson. Mrs. Johnson will read cards, and Mrs. Frampton, tea cups.

Need Clothing

Word has just come from Saskatchewan that relief sales of clothing are still urgently needed. The Columbia Diocese ships to Regina, Saskatoon and Prince Albert, and any clothing for these points may be left at Rooms 22 or 17, Cathedral Memorial Hall.

Sociologist Club

The general monthly business meeting of the Sociologist Club of Greater Victoria will be held in The Colgate board room on Tuesday, November 7, at 8 o'clock.

Y.P.S. NEWS

OBVFA

An enjoyable Halloween party was held by the members of the Oak Bay Young People's Association on Tuesday evening. A short business period resulted in the election of Steve Bailey as delegate to the provincial conference to be held in New Westminster at the week-end of November 11 and 12. Mr. Bailey gave an interesting paper on the origin of the celebration of Halloween. This was followed by numerous suitable games and riddles, after which refreshments were served. Next week's meeting will take the form of an open forum on "The Attitude of Young People to War."

Bride—When you married me, thought you were daring and courageous.
Groom—That's nothing. Name one person who didn't.

Couple Will Make Home
In Nanaimo

Before an altar with lighted candles and flowers of pastel shades, Miss Edith Draper, of Seattle, was given in marriage by her father, Captain A. E. Draper, to Captain Maurice Arnold Corfield, of Nanaimo, at St. Paul's Episcopal Church on Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Rev. Walter G. Horn, rector of St. Paul's, reading the marriage service and using the two-ring ceremony.

Preceding the service, Mr. Alfred Sundvall sang "Because" and "L'Amour, Toujours L'Amour." He was accompanied by Mr. Ron Baggett, who also played the wedding march.

The bride wore a white marquisette gown and finger-length wedding veil fashioned with a Juliet cap, held back with dainty sprays of white bouvardia. The wedding gown, in the prevailing old-fashioned mode, was made with the Sweetheart square neckline, puff sleeves, shirred girdle and modified bustle flounces. Her bouquet was an arm shower of white roses, lily of the valley and white bouvardia.

Mrs. Ernest W. Elmer, the former Dorothy Laws, cousin of the bride, as matron of honor, was the bride's only attendant. Mrs. Elmer wore a hyacinth blue frock with Lorraine wine-colored accessories, short veil and tiny hat with a velvet bow. Her arm bouquet was of yellow roses and wine-colored chrysanthemums, tied with wine-colored ribbons.

The groom was attended by Mr. Robert E. Draper, brother of the bride, as best man. The ushers were Mr. Elliott W. Laws and Mr. Donald Draper, cousin and brother, respectively, of the bride.

An informal reception was held in the vestry after the ceremony. The bride's mother wore a velvet gown of royal blue, with corsage of pink roses and pink bouvardia, and the groom's mother was in Burgundy velvet with gardenias and yellow roses. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Frances McEntire, wore a black and white flowered frock with a corsage bouquet of violets. The bride's and immediate relatives were entertained at a wedding supper at the Meany Hotel following the service.

After a short wedding trip, the young couple will be at home at the Cambridge Apartments. Later they will make their permanent home at Nanaimo, where Captain Corfield is engaged in business. Mr. and Mrs. Corfield have many friends in Victoria.

way, tiny aprons being provided for the donations. The hall and tables were decorated with bronze and yellow chrysanthemums and yellow marigolds. Mrs. H. W. Bassett and Miss K. Oldfield presided at the urns, and others assisting the hostesses were Mrs. L. H. MacQueen, Mrs. B. Hoole, Mrs. D. W. Phillips, Mrs. A. Rankin, and Misses Eva Phillips, Pat Hutchison and Doreen Owens. During the afternoon Mrs. Bernard Lefevre delighted the guests with three vocal solos, for which Miss Estelle Clark played the accompaniments.

Organization
Of Campaign
Is Proceeding

A steady build-up in organization of the women's section of the Community Chest and Red Cross campaign is proceeding, and yesterday the chairman, Miss Sara Spencer, held the third meeting of the week at her home, Moss Street, to give instructions and kiss to the group of which Mrs. Norman Yarrow is mayor. On the previous days Mrs. H. E. Ridewood and Mrs. W. H. Molson's groups went through the same procedure, and today and tomorrow will see the remaining groups, commanded by Mrs. R. W. Mayhew, Mrs. R. T. Taylor and Mrs. Alex Gillespie, supplied with all information and equipment.

At the same time the men's divisions are gradually perfecting details of organization to go into action on November 13. The "pencil names" division "A," under G. H. Stevens, already has an outline of methods; division "B," under Warren W. Martin, is practically completely organized; also division "D," under Harold Wilson, and division "E," under E. G. Rowbottom. There will be a meeting of the campaign executive today to conclude organization details.

Gave Birthday Party

Mrs. J. Britton, 617 Catherine Street, entertained on Tuesday afternoon at a Halloween party for her son, Jimmy, who was celebrating his fifth birthday. Many games were played by the little guests before they sat down to tea. Orange and black formed the color scheme for the tea table, which was covered with a novelty Halloween cloth and centred with the birthday cake with its five lighted candles. Colored streamers and balloons hung from the chandelier, above the table, completing the festive setting. Those present were Mrs. G. T. Merriman with Johnny, Freddie, Marie and Frances; Mrs. B. Kendal with Richard, Billy and Stephen; Mrs. E. Mills with Vera, Donald and Danny; Mrs. P. Burley with Allan, Dale and Gordon; Mrs. R. Burley and Ray; Mrs. F. Britton and her nephew, Bobby Kirk; Miss Evelyn Nuttall and little Ines Nuttall. Miss Ada Mills, June Appleby and Doreen Bull, and Master Fred Gardner.

Hostesses Last Evening

Mrs. H. Clarke and her daughter, Mrs. J. Jagne, were hostesses last evening at the former's home on Oscar Street, at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Edna Gwyer, whose marriage to Mr. G. A. Hendy, P.P.C.L.I., will take place this month. A Halloween motif was carried out in all the decorations. The gifts were placed in and around a model army camp, in the foreground of which stood a miniature bride and groom. An enjoyable evening was spent, and a buffet supper was served. The table was centred with a bowl filled with yellow and orange chrysanthemums and lighted by lighted tapers, while on the sideboard stood a witch surrounded by all the accessories of her black art. The guests were Mesdames C. Gwyer, P. D. Burns, A. Cheekley, S. Le Poudre, B. Le Savre, H. H. Hollins, J. Lambert, O. C. Payne, and Misses Winifred Payne, Marjorie Gwyer, Dorothy Wells, Winifred Boyle and Estelle Clarke.

High School Party

Miss Dorothy Harper entertained the Victoria High School Alumni at her home, 2714 Asquith Street, at an informal Halloween party on Tuesday evening. The house was decorated in a color scheme of orange and black, the same Halloween motif being carried out in the arrangement of the supper table. Games were played and songs and dances enjoyed. A special prize was won by Mr. Carden Akhurst. Those present were Miss Grace Child, Betty Hill-Tout, Marjorie Beech, Pat Somers, Waverly Bishop, Lillian Braithwaite, Ruggie Prentice, Flo Sims, Marjorie Lindgren, Jean Vey, and Mesdames Carden Akhurst, Ben Duckworth, Jack Vaino, M. WANTS GIRL WHO CAN PLAY PIPES

New Yorker Seeking Wife Who Has Ability to Produce Scottish Music

HALIFAX, Nov. 1 (CP).—Grist Here's a man who is looking for a life partner. He's got a job, and $8,000 in the bank.

There's just one qualification—the girl he picks must be able to play the bagpipes.

The man is Brian Macgoey, of New York City. He wrote to Gaelic-Speaking Premier Angus L. Macdonald, of Nova Scotia, expressing his wish to marry a girl who could play the pipes. "I feel sure the must be a girl somewhere in Nova Scotia or Canada who can play them," he said.

Mr. Macgoey added that he had seen the girls' pipe band from Saskatoon at the World's Fair, "and admired them very much." He wasn't able to meet any of them, however, and a letter to the pipe major brought no reply.

OPEN SCHOOLS IN EVACUATION AREAS

British Government Announces Institutions to Resume Immediately—700,000 Children Are Affected

LONDON, Nov. 1 (CP).—Bowling to public pressure, the Government today announced the immediate reopening of schools in evacuation areas, where more than 700,000 children are still in the cities and towns.

Cities affected by the decision include London, Liverpool, Manchester, Sheffield and Leeds. Only a limited number of schools will be reopened at first. The announcement was made in the House of Lords by Earl de la Warr, president of the Board of Education, who emphasized that this step should not be considered as an invitation to parents to bring back their children from the reception areas where they have been sent.

Rumored German Ships Interfered in Japan Fitting Out as Raiders

According to a traveler from the Orient, who passed through Victoria during the week on his way to New York, several German vessels which have been interned in Japanese ports since the beginning of the war may put to sea any day. There were persistent rumors while the visitor was in Japan that the vessels, including the Scharnhorst, were taking on stores and displaying unusual activity. Prevailing rumors were to the effect that the Scharnhorst was to be fitted as a raider, but these rumors were persistently denied.

Advices from New York state that two Grace liners—the Santa Rita and the Santa Inez—are to be operated by the United States Navy in North Pacific waters. In connection with the report was the announcement that the Maritime Commission has turned over two new C-2 freighters to the Grace Line as part of the exchange. The Santa Rita and the Santa Inez have been operating out of New York to the west coast of South America. They are well known and formerly operated out of San Francisco. Much the same type as the old Panama Mail Line vessels Venezuela and Ecuador, they are 2,622 net tons and were built in 1929. They are to serve as tender-transports between California, Puget Sound and Alaska.

REFUSED TO BOW

A uniformed United States customs officer at Hilo, Hawaii, reported last week that Japanese officers would not allow him aboard the Japanese training cruiser Yakumo, because he refused to bow to a sentry when he went to board the Yakumo on her arrival at Hilo from Honolulu. Aboard the Admiral's flagship, the Ise, customs officers were received without any hitch.

orders if the United States arms embargo is lifted.

It is, upon these areas that the United States army and navy lean most heavily for munitions in peacetime. Administration officials suggested today that this was the most accurate available gauge of the likely spread of foreign orders.

By some unofficial estimates, Great Britain and France are ready to place orders approaching $1,000,000,000 with little delay if the embargo is lifted. In addition, at least two Northern neutrals have purchasing missions here.

MOST IDEAL CONDITIONS

Coast of British Columbia Logical Location for Aircraft Production

VANCOUVER, Nov. 1 (CP).—British Columbia's claims to being an ideal site for extensive aircraft manufacture are set out in a brief submitted to Federal authorities, the Vancouver Board of Trade announced today.

The board says there are more than 500 skilled workmen already employed in the aircraft industry at Vancouver, and this force would be available as a nucleus for training others.

In addition, the brief cites superior climatic conditions, availability of desirable sites, abundance of raw materials, favorable construction costs and proximity to plane manufacturing centres in the United States.

"After a careful study of all existing factors," the brief reports, "it is the unanimous opinion of the Vancouver Board of Trade that air-planes can be economically manufactured in this territory. As it is authentically reported that the use of wood in construction has been adopted for the manufacture of training planes and certain types of bombers which are urgently required in large numbers, such a decision, in our opinion, is a further reason why British Columbia can and should participate in this work."

Among those to whom the brief has been submitted is the War Supply Board and the British War Purchasing Commission now in Ottawa.

KILLED BY WARNING SHOT FROM BATTERY

WELLINGTON, N.Z., Nov. 1 (CP-Reuters).—A verdict of death due to drowning and shock was returned today at the inquest into the death of F. J. Prasell, killed when a shore battery in Lyttelton Harbor sank the fishing launch Dolphin, wrongly described in Nazi broadcasts as a "warship."

The coroner said the battery's signal had been seen but not understood. The warning shot struck the engine-room and pierced the engine, hitting Prasell and hurling him overboard.

"No Better Life in World for Boy"

RONALD H. VIDAL
O. H. Vidal, who went to England in October, 1938, seeking service with the Royal Air Force, writes Captain H. Great Lakes Shipping Is Sharing in War-Inspired Business Boom

WINDSOR, Ont., Nov. 1 (CP).—Shipping men here and in Detroit forecast today that shipping records will be posted this season on the Great Lakes. Every hull that can get up steam and safely float a cargo is in operation, reflecting the war-inspired business upsurge. Schedules insure continuance of the pressure until ice shuts off navigation. There are no unemployed capable seamen.

Iron ore carriers laid down more than 9,000,000 tons on Lower Lakes docks in October, the best month since 1937, and topping September's record of 7,855,000 tons. Up-bound coal shipments for October topped 6,000,000 tons for the fourth consecutive month, shattering previous records for a like period. Six million-ton months are rare. Four in succession have not been heard of previously. Oil tankers are at capacity, automobiles are moving in volume, and limestone shipments continue at peak.

LOADING POINT ANCHA

BELLINGHAM, Wash., Nov. 1 (AP).—Bellingham longshoremen today started loading lumber aboard the freighter Point Ancha, under order of Federal Arbitrator Van C. Griffin, who late yesterday held that there were no "conditions now existing along the waterfront which would justify their refusal to load the vessel."

MARY D. WILL BE SURVEYED

Leaking Alaska Freighter Is Awaiting Inspection at Prince Rupert

PRINCE RUPERT, Nov. 1 (CP).—Decision as to whether the damaged United States freighter Mary D., which ran ashore in Grenville Channel Monday, will be repaired here or continue her voyage to Alaska, will await arrival of an underwriters' representative from San Francisco.

Divers inspected the vessel here yesterday and found she was damaged near the stern. She is reported leaking.

A further survey will be made by the underwriters to determine whether the Mary D. should proceed to Alaska or be drydocked here. The boat is owned by Pacific American Fisheries, and is under charter to the Alaska Steamship Company. She was carrying United States naval supplies to Alaska when she grounded.

MAY FLOP WHEN IT HITS WATER

Strangely-Fashioned Craft Will Be Christened at Tacoma Saturday

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 1 (AP).—Requests for water from Alaska and Virginia were sent from here today as Tacoma prepared for the launching Saturday of the "wackiest" looking vessel ever seen in the harbor.

The strange ship named the "Ark" because of its queer lines, was built by Paul Saitko, unemployed Richmond, Va., welder, who plans to transport his wife and seven children to remote Cook Inlet, Alaska, in it next Spring. Saitko has decided to make the launching formal. If the water requested from the governors of Alaska and Virginia arrives in time it will be substituted for champagne. The Virginian built the forty-foot-long, ten-ton boat piecemeal. He started the hull in Richmond, towed it cross-country on a truck and began finishing it beside the city waterway here a month ago.

The boat looks like the amalgamation of a giant bath tub with a Dutch clog. It is only eight feet wide, twelve feet from keel to deck. The deck is raised off with unfinished two-by-fours. The wheelhouse looks like an out-building.

Shipbuilding kill-bills are offering odds the Ark "will flop like a dead elephant" when it hits the water.

LABOR AGAINST LICENSING LAW

Trades and Labor Council To Protest Proposed Act For Contractors

The proposed contractors' licensing act met with its first opposition in Victoria last night when the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council instructed its secretary to enter a protest against the measure in its present form, with Attorney-General G. S. Wismer. The Trades Council wants the bill held up until labor can be represented at the hearing of the bill if it should be sent to the private bills committee of the House at the present session of the Legislature.

OPPOSES SET-UP

A copy of the draft bill was read at the meeting, and there was a series of objections, mainly on the ground that the measure, if enacted, would restrict journeymen from entering the contracting business. There was also opposition to the set-up of the board of administration and the method of appointing the labor representative. (It is proposed in the by-laws to have labor's member appointed by the Government.) The labor group would like two representatives on the board—one in Vancouver and one in Victoria.

REGULATE INDUSTRY

The proposed licensing law would permit contractors to regulate their own industry, and would apply to all contractors allied with the building trades. The administration would be in the hands of a seven-man board, to be elected annually by the membership. The board would appoint its own registrar, and provision was made for appeal to the courts from any decision of the board.

It was reported that the measure had secured support in most of the centres on the Mainland. Headquarters for the board would be in the city of Vancouver, and members would serve without pay.

MEN'S FELLOWSHIP

The monthly meeting of the Anglican Men's Fellowship of St. Michael's Church, Royal Oak, and St. Columba, Strawberry Vale, will be held in St. Michael's Parish Hall tomorrow at 8 p.m. The guest speaker will be Dr. W. A. Carothers, chairman of the Public Utilities Commission. All men are cordially invited.

COMEDY PICTURE AT PLAZA TODAY

"Should Husbands Work?" Stars James and Lucille Gleason in Family Comedy

James Gleason, who stars in the Republic Higgins Family comedy of that name, "Should Husbands Work?" which will start today at the Plaza Theatre, thinks so; but in the film he has a hot time trying to keep a job because of his wife's "helping hand."

Republic's screen family is comprised of James Gleason and Lucille Gleason, as Joe and Lil Higgins; Harry Davenport, as Grandpa; Tommy Ryan as Junior; Mary Hart as Jean, and Russell as Sid.

CAPITOL "On Your Toes," one of THEATRE the big musical treats of the coming season, is now showing at the Capitol Theatre. Starring the beautiful and exotic Zorina, this rare screen entertainment offers a combination of rollicking humor and superlative dancing. Comedy is the main goal of the production, even the terpsichorean talents of the great Zorina being directed toward that end.

AMUSEMENTS

On the Screen

Atlas—Gary Cooper in "Beau Geste."

Capitol—"On Your Toes," featuring Zorina.

Columbia—"The Night Riders," starring Ray Corrigan.

Domination—"Rio," featuring Basil Rathbone.

Oak Bay—Elisabeth Bergner in "Stolen Life."

Plaza—"Should Husbands Work," starring James Gleason.

Chorean talents of the great Zorina being directed toward that end.

DOMINION All indications point THEATRE to immediate stardom for the glamorous Sigrid Gurie, who plays the feminine lead in Universal's "Rio," which is showing for the last time today at the Dominion Theatre. Basil Rathbone and Victor McLaglen are the stars, with Robert Cummings and Leo Carrillo in featured roles.

"BEAU GESTE" TO SCREEN AT ATLAS

Gary Cooper Plays Title Role In Rousing Screen Story Opening Here Today

Gary Cooper, starred in the greatest of all his roles as the fearless Beau in Paramount's rousing picturization of "Beau Geste," bravely leads his brothers to smashing adventure in the Foreign Legion so that they can forget the dishonor of the past. With Ray Milland as John and Robert Preston as Digby, the picture will open today at the Atlas Theatre.

ELISABETH BERGNER RETURNS TO FILMS

The incomparable Elisabeth Bergner, after an absence of many months, returns to delight her millions of followers in a drama worthy of her genius, "Stolen Life," which will open today at the Oak Bay Theatre. The picture was produced and directed by Paul Czinner.

The unusual story, adapted by Margaret Kennedy from the best-selling novel of K. Benes, places

Miss Bergner in a dual role—an entirely new departure for her. Sylvia and Martina are identical twins, but their similarities begin and end in their physical resemblances. Spiritually, they are diametric opposites. Sylvia is selfish, flirtatious and cunning. Martina is kind, shy and honest.

"THE NIGHT RIDERS" STARS RAY CORRIGAN

In "The Night Riders," which will open today at the Columbia Theatre, Ray Corrigan is in the role of Tucson Smith. With his two pals, Stony Brooke and Lullaby Joellin—played by John Wayne and Max Terhune—Tucson aids a group of Western ranchers in exposing a Spanish "noblemen" who lays claim to their property.

An excellent supporting cast includes Ruth Rogers, George Douglas, Doreen McKay, Tom Tyler, Kermit Maynard, Walter Wills and many others.

George Sherman directed the picture from a screen play by Betty Burbridge and Stanley Roberts.

ROMANTIC TEAM IN THRILLING VEHICLE

Lovely Joan Bennett and handsome Louis Howard are romantically teamed for the first time in the tense and thrilling story of "The Man in the Iron Mask," the new Edward Small romantic drama of the reign of Louis XIV of France, which is scheduled to open next week at the Plaza Theatre. Warren William, Joseph Schildkraut, Alan Hale, Miles Mander, Bert Roach, Walter Kingsford, Marian Martin, Montagu Love and Doris Kenyon are featured.

ANGNA ENTERS WILL APPEAR IN VICTORIA

Reviewers have acclaimed the artistry of "The Theatre of Angna Enters," who has appeared both in the United States and Canada. Miss Enters will appear at the Royal Victoria Theatre for one night only, on Saturday, November 11.

Education Week To Begin Sunday

Presidents and secretaries of local associations of the British Columbia Teachers' Federation, and chairmen of district councils, have been circled by J. H. Sutherland, provincial president, concerning Education Week, which will be observed throughout the province from Sunday, November 5, to Saturday, November 11.

The following topics will be discussed in the order given: Sunday, November 5, educational progress in Canada; Monday, the school, its function and aims; Tuesday, the school, its buildings and equipment; Wednesday, the teacher, preparation and remuneration; Thursday, educational finance in Canada; Friday, educational finance outside Canada; Saturday, modernizing Canadian educational finance.

Arrangements have been completed with the C.B.C. for the Dominion president to speak on a Dominion-wide hook-up from Montreal on Monday, beginning at 7:45 p.m., E.S.T., and J. M. Thomas, a vice-president over the Western network, from 9:30 to 9:45 p.m., P.S.T.

NOTED RACING DRIVER WILL GIVE TALK HERE

Black Hawks to Be at Home to Detroit Red Wings In First Game of National League Campaign—Eleven New Players Will Make Their Debut—Toronto to Face Bruins Saturday

CHICAGO, Nov. 1 (AP).—The National Hockey League, its seven teams self-admittedly strengthened for a long trek to the playoffs, opens the 1939-40 season tomorrow night with the revamped Detroit Red Wings playing the Black Hawks at Chicago.

But it will be another week before all the teams have seen action and almost two weeks before the six cities in which the teams perform get their first taste of big-league play. Boston fans must wait until November 14, when the Black Hawks tangle with the Bruins.

If there is such a thing as a pre-season favorite in hockey, the Bruins have been made a slight choice to retain the Stanley Cup they won last season after stirring series with New York Rangers and Toronto Maple Leafs. But all too often the Stanley Cup holder has been a door-mat the following season and no one is going overboard for Boston.

The Bruins will swing into action for the first time at Toronto, Saturday night, followed by Chicago's meeting with the Canadiens in Montreal and the Rangers with the Red Wings in Detroit, Sunday. New York Americans, last to fall in line, open against the Canadiens in Montreal, a week tomorrow.

NEW YORK GAMES
The first New York game will be when the Leafs play Rangers on Sunday, November 12. From there into the final league game, March 17, there are the usual four playing nights a week.

CHESS STAR THRILLS WITH FINE DISPLAY

Georges Koltanowski Gives Grand Exhibition Before Local Enthusiasts

Would you like to rub shoulders with a champion? Twenty-one of the city's leading chess players did that last night in the lounge room of the Dominion Hotel and will probably cherish those moments for a long time. The occasion was the visit of Georges Koltanowski, Belgian exponent of the game of chess and world champion blindfold player.

To chess lovers the visit of Koltanowski, master showman and a great player, will long be remembered. Even those who only occupied the role of onlookers, marveled at the skill of the thirty-five-year-old Belgian, who made the game look like child's play. His programme was highly entertaining and his splendid showmanship always kept his audience in a happy mood.

Koltanowski left not a single doubt in the minds of players and spectators as to his ability to manipulate the pieces in masterful fashion. He demonstrated this very convincingly by playing twenty-one tables simultaneously and registered nineteen victories.

A. G. Moody, city champion, was the first player to register a triumph over the visitor, and H. Henderson, another local ace, was the second winner. Others of the twenty-one who faced Koltanowski either resigned or were beaten.

While the Belgian's actual play left nothing to be desired, his work as a blindfold player overshadowed his earlier performance. The latter exhibition was unquestionably the most entertaining ever witnessed by local chess enthusiasts.

BLINDFOLD EXHIBITION
Playing sixteen men, four at a table, at one time, is a good evening's chore for any expert, but to oppose them without seeing the boards is certainly no common feat. However, to Koltanowski, world champion in that particular art, the task was quite simple.

Sitting with his back to his opponents, the visitor played the four tables and made a clean sweep. L. Partington, president of the City Chess Club, called the plays made by the visitor and then made the moves for Koltanowski as he directed. At one stage the Belgian stopped the game and asked the players if they would like to know their positions, and without even glancing at the boards or hesitating for a single moment, Koltanowski called the correct position of every man on the second board.

An interesting address by Koltanowski wound up the exhibition. Prolonged applause by the players and spectators told just how much the show was appreciated.
L. Partington introduced Georges

Giants' Mound Ace Slices Own Salary

Man among men is Carl Hubbell, of the New York Giants. When sent a blank contract for next season to fill in his own figures, the eminent southpaw, long the standby of the club, but who had a comparatively poor season for him last summer, on his own initiative slashed his salary from $22,500 to $15,000. It has long been said as Hubbell goes, so go the Giants—and the Terrymen didn't go very well this year. Hubbell won eleven and lost nine games.

Koltanowski and in doing so mentioned briefly the splendid record established by the visitor.

Pitzer & Nex and McDonald Electric Share First Position

With Bill Cotton and Ray Dawson setting the pace with six victories each, Pitzer & Nex came through with a 20-16 victory over Renfrew Bros. in the feature match in the senior division of the City Table Tennis League at the Crystal Garden. It was the second straight setback for Renfrew. The victory places the two station boys in a tie for first place with McDonald Electric.

The electric squad had no trouble in trimming the Ajax squad by a 20-8 score, while Liberty Cafe, second place team, came through with a 22-14 decision over Murphy Electric.

ROOKIE FORWARD LINE IS PRAISED
DETROIT, Nov. 1 (AP).—The rookie line of Joe Carveth, Archie Wilder and Les Douglas will be in the National Hockey League by Christmas, Jack Adams, manager of Detroit Red Wings, predicted tonight before he left for the season's opener at Chicago tomorrow between Chicago Black Hawks and the Wings.

Adams said the rookies, an all-star line with the Detroit Pontiacs of the Michigan Ontario Amateur Hockey League last season, will start the season with Wings' farm team, Indianapolis Capitols.

Hee Kilrea, thirty-two, will start his fourteenth season in the National Hockey League tomorrow with Wings, but will go to the Capitols for their first two games, Saturday and Sunday. Kilrea will return to the Wings as soon as Don Grosso is in condition to report to Capitols. Grosso injured his wrist in an exhibition game.

Vancouver Paper To Sponsor Show
VANCOUVER, Nov. 1 (AP).—Province-wide amateur boxing tournament will be staged here November 24-25, sponsored by a Vancouver newspaper. The Buns and the British Columbia Amateur Boxing Association. Winners of the tourney will be allowed to compete in the Golden Gloves matches in Seattle in December.

The newspaper said it will assist from a number of fighters and will communicate with amateur clubs and coaches throughout the province to supply them with information on the British Columbia Golden Gloves Tournament.

TO FIGURE IN LARGE PURSE
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 1 (AP).—Breeder and trainers of the first three horses finishing in the Kentucky Derby next year are going to get something more than just mention in the record book.

Beginning in 1940, the men who have a great deal to do with producing a horse that finishes in the money will be rewarded with a share in the Derby "gold," which directors of Churchill Downs have upped from $50,000 added to $75,000 added to make it the second richest race in the country.

Colonel Matt Winn, president of the American Turf Association, which controls the Downs, said today breeders and trainers never had shared in horse race purses in America except in futures.

The trainer of the Derby champion is to receive $2,000, while the breeder will be rewarded with $2,000. For the place horse, the trainer is to get $2,000 and the breeder, $1,000. The trainer and breeder of the show horse will collect $1,000 and $500, respectively.

FIGHTING COMEBACK OF VETERAN BOXER ENDS DRAMATICALLY

Former World's Champion of Three Divisions Technically Knocked Out Early in Bout by Al Davis in Madison Square Garden—Winnipeg Boy Kayoes Billy Beaulieu in the Fifth

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP).—The end of the historic comeback trail came for old Tony Canzoneri tonight with a technical knockout in the third round of a scheduled ten-rounder against young Al Davis of Brooklyn.

Outweighed four and three-quarter pounds at 143, the former champion, in his twenty-fourth fight in Madison Square Garden, was stopped after 2:13 of the third round after he had been floored twice.

He went down from a blistering left early in the round for a count of three, then was felled again, rose to his feet at six, glassy-eyed as his young foe came charging across the ring.

But Arthur Donovan threw his arm around Tony and warned off from a blistering left early in the round for a count of three, then was felled again, rose to his feet at six, glassy-eyed as his young foe came charging across the ring.

Canzoneri gave away too many points to Al Davis, heavy-fisted New Yorker and a leading contender for the welter crown. The referee stopped it in the third round after Tony twice had hit the deck, soundly beaten but not disgraced.

Marquart had the crowd of 16,000 fans in Madison Square Garden standing on their seats shouting their acclaim. Smashed down and all but out in the first round, a few seconds after he had the Jersey slasher on the floor, the Winnipeg boy roared back to rip Beaulieu's right eyebrow, gashing a stream of blood from his mouth. The referee stopped the slugfest after 1:44 of the fifth.

At 135, Marquart gave away five and one-quarter pounds. It was his nineteenth K.O. in the forty-seven fights he has had since turning professional three years ago. Only four of them have been losing starts.

A looping left and right cross dropped Beaulieu in forty-five seconds of the first round, but the Manitoba was over-anxious in trying for the kill as Beaulieu wobbled under a right the latter lifted off the floor dumped Marquart for a sixth count.

For the rest of the round the Jerseyman fought like a juggernaut, and only a stout heart kept Marquart up until the bell. It was difference in the second when the twenty-three-year-old Winnipegger smashed over a staggering flurry of leather to the head.

The American, one of the heaviest clouters in his class, never quit trying, but Marquart kept him always on defence, then pulled the fuse of his big bertha in the fifth.

Seattle Goalie on The Retired List

SEATTLE, Nov. 1 (AP).—Percy Phil Lyette, of the Seattle Seahawks, said today Emmett Venne, goalie, announced his retirement rather than accept the reduced salary offered him. Lyette said he might land Percy Jackson, of Vancouver, and that he was considering an unnamed star amateur.

Chalcedon Heads Three Horse Race At Pimlico Track

Beats Out Kayak II by Half a Length to Win $10,000 Pimlico Special—Cravat Is Hopelessly Outclassed and Is Eighteen Lengths Behind—Winner Boosts Earnings to $184,535

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer
BALTIMORE, Nov. 1 (AP)—Chalcedon came home today to win the racing championship of the year. With a great stretch drive, William L. Brann's Maryland-bred colt got up to take the Pimlico special by half a length from Charles S. Howard's Kayak II. Townsend B. Martin's Cravat was a distant third, eighteen lengths behind.

Chalcedon took the $10,000 purse in this mile and three-sixteenths "dream race," a gold cup, and earned ranking as the horse-of-the-year.

Most of the 22,000 fans who turned out for the gallop which young Alfred G. Vanderbilt conceived and brought to reality were strong for the local horse, backed down to $2.90 for $2 in the mutuels.

Only once was there any question about his coming home winning. That occurred as the three-horse field rounded into the stretch turn and Kayak, ridden by George Woolf of Cardston, Alta., made his bid, after chasing Chalcedon all the way up to that point.

He finished the route in 1:59, fair time for a track which, while in good condition, was not yet completely dried out from three days of rain.

This purse in this winner-take-all affair boosted Chalcedon's earnings for the year to $184,535 and marked his ninth victory in fifteen starts in 1939.

Jockey Eddie Arcaro went to the whip. Chalcedon drew even half-way down the stretch, then slowly but surely showed his nose in front.

LITTLE LARKS TAKE ANOTHER

Defeat Aces, 32-4, for Third Straight Table Tennis Win—Sylvester's Triumph

Little Larks continued their triumphant march in the second division of the Victoria Table Tennis Association last night at the Crystal Garden, with a convincing 32-4 victory over the Aces. It was the third straight victory for the Larks and strengthened their hold on first place.

Sylvester U Drive, defending champions, beaten last week by the leaders, staged a return to form by defeating Royal Arcanum, 20-16. The outcome left the clubs tied in second place in the team standings.

Eiworthy and Campbell, each with eight victories, set the pace for the Larks, and were closely followed by Prior and McGregor with seven and six wins, respectively.

Tommy Kay led the drive to victory over Royal Arcanum by posting six victories. Kenny Lawson with seven wins and "Scotty" McKenzie with six were the top scorers for the losers.

Individual scores follow:
Little Larks—Singles: Prior 7, Eiworthy 8, Campbell 8, McGregor 6. Doubles: Prior and Eiworthy 1, Campbell and McGregor 2.

Aces—Singles: B. Shade 0, Miss B. Shade 0, Gagliardi 2, T. Crombie 1. Doubles: Miss B. Shade and T. Crombie 0, B. Shade and Gagliardi 1. Sylvester U Drive—Singles: A. Sead 4, B. Sead 4, Erickson 3, Kay 6. Doubles: A. and B. Sead 2, Erickson and Kay 1.

Royal Arcanum—Singles: McKenzie 6, Lawson 7, Pretty 2, Kay 0. Doubles: McKenzie and Lawson 1, Pretty and Kay 0.

STANBURY IS LEADING
LONDON, Nov. 1 (CP)—Conrad Stanbury, of Winnipeg, conceding five points in each frame, today beat Charles Reed, of Salisbury, three frames to two, in their heat in the £300 ($1,335) Empire professional snooker tournament. The scores, in Stanbury's favor, were: 60-4, 40-62, 60-49, 22-75, 76-43.

NEWMARKET, Eng., Nov. 1 (CP)—Debel, at 9 to 1, today won the Middle Park Stakes for two-year-olds, beating out Tant Mieux, the 9 to 4 favorite, by two lengths. Godiva, at 10 to 1, ran third, a further three-quarters length behind, in the field of twenty.

After the class had been photographed, teacher was trying to persuade the children to buy prints. "Now, children," she said, "just think how much pleasure you'll get from this photograph when you're grown up. You'll be able to look at it and say: 'There's Jean, she's a nurse; there's Tom, he's in the army, and—'"

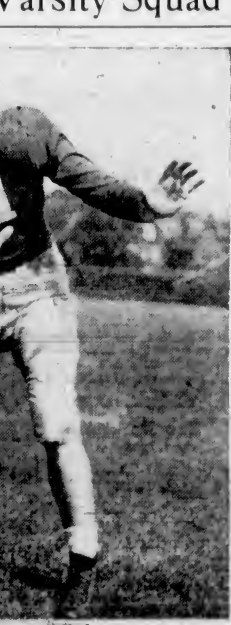

Then the bad boy of the class chimed in: "There's teacher, she's dead!"

The sub-editor came into the editor's office. "A correspondent has sent this report of a cock-fight, with full details and some marvelous photographs," he informed his chief. "That's fine," replied the editor. "Put it into the next issue."

"But," protested the sub, "surely we can't publish it? You know what our readers are. They're sure to object."

"Perhaps you're right," admitted the editor. "But put it in, just the same. Head it: 'A Brutal Sport! Where Are the Police?'"

RESTRICT USE OF FOODSTUFFS

Minister of Food in Britain Says Butter and Bacon Are on List

LONDON, Nov. 1 (CP)—W. S. Morrison, Minister of Food, announced today the British Government will ration the consumption of bacon and butter beginning the middle of December.

General rationing will not be started, although distribution of the ration books and other necessary prerequisites will be completed.

Everyone will be entitled to four ounces of butter and four ounces of bacon weekly, Mr. Morrison said, "provided imports continue at the present rate, as there is a good reason for assuming they will."

PERISHABLE FOODS
Because both commodities are perishable, there was no Government reserve of either at the outbreak of hostilities. Imports from European sources have been reduced for the present, and there has been no time to fill the gap from more distant sources of supply.

Mr. Morrison said sugar supplies were sufficient to meet normal requirements, and rationing would be imposed only if the public would not restrict purchases to a pound per head weekly.

Manufacture of margarine has greatly increased since the war started, and the quantity of cooking fat available is normal.

Adequate supplies of meat continue to be available, Mr. Morrison told the Commons. He urged that every household make a strict rule not to waste food.

A lawyer thus illustrates the language of the craft: "If a man were to give another an orange, he would simply say: 'Have an orange.' But when the transaction is entrusted to a lawyer to be put in writing he adopts this form: 'I hereby give and convey to you, all and singular, my estate and interests, right, title, claim and advantages of and in said orange, together with all its rind, juice, pulp and pips and all rights and advantages therein, with full power to bite, cut, suck and otherwise to eat the same or give the same away with or without the rind, skin, juice, pulp or pips, anything hereinbefore or hereinafter or in any other means of whatever nature or kind whatsoever to the contrary in any wise notwithstanding.'

"And then another lawyer comes along and takes it away from you!"

After the class had been photographed, teacher was trying to persuade the children to buy prints. "Now, children," she said, "just think how much pleasure you'll get from this photograph when you're grown up. You'll be able to look at it and say: 'There's Jean, she's a nurse; there's Tom, he's in the army, and—'"

Sooke vs. Lake Hill.

Matches will be played on the courts of the first-mentioned clubs.

The novice boxer had been badly battered in the first round. His second round tried to cheer him up. "Good boy," he said; "you're doing fine."

He faced even worse in the second round. Still his second remained optimistic.

"You were great that time," he said. "He barely laid a glove on you."

The novice looked puzzled. As he went out for the third round, he turned to his second:

"Better keep your eye on the referee this time," he said. "Somebody is hitting me."

Junior was in the habit of coming to the table with a dirty face and, of course, had to be sent away to wash.

One time his mother, nearly losing patience, said: "Junior, why do you persist in coming to the table without washing? You know I always send you away."

"Well," said Junior meekly, "once you forget."

CRIME TEARS ON CAROLYN WELLS

CHAPTER XXXIV

"Look up the pearls, Miss Madison," Susan advised, "and then take me to your brother's room. That holds a problem that must be solved."

"Very well. Will you come, Avis?" Avis was a name Yvette assumed.

"Yes."

Downstairs, at Silver Hill, the great hall ran straight through the main building, from front to back, with many rooms on either side. A broad staircase went up at the back of the hall and branched both ways on a spacious landing. Upstairs the hall ran the other way across the wide house. Harley's room was at the east side of the long row of front rooms, and Cornelia's at the extreme west end. Craig's room was next to his uncle's and Tom Sheldon's next to Cornelia's. The other front rooms were guest rooms, including the suite always given to Anita when she came for her villa.

Across the hall the rooms looked out on pleasant scenery, with the ivy arbor, rose pergolas and the various summer houses or shelters, and a fountain. Miss Verne's rooms were on this north side.

As they crossed the hall, Craig came out of his own rooms and joined them. They entered Harley's bedroom.

Stone paused to look at the great key that Elkannah, Hetty's husband, had described.

It was an antique, without beauty or grace, but suggestive of a strong lock turned by a strong hand. It had no particular interest for the detective, but he thought it would be a most convenient thing to lend to a friend in order that he might make a secret entry. And surely that lock, with its curious wards, would open to no other key.

Inside they all stood looking at Harley's bed.

"Who turned down the bed and laid out Mr. Madison's night clothes?" Stone asked. "Hetty?"

"No," Cornelia replied. "Elkannah. He was Harley's right hand man."

"On which side did he sleep, do you know?" Stone asked, after a look at the pillows.

Stone noticed how easily a man coming in at the hall door, and finding Madison asleep on his left side, and therefore with his back ready to the intruder, could commit his dreadful deed carefully and quickly.

Craig said, with a sudden recollection: "Do you know, Mr. Stone, I read a book once, a detective story, and the crime was committed in singular fashion."

"It is not unknown," said Stone, "but it is a method seldom used. It is painless and very sure."

"It is too horrible to think of," Cornelia said, "but I am thankful it was a painless death."

"Come, Avis," Craig said, "let us go out for a few moments of fresh air. We are of no help here, eh, Mr. Stone?"

"No, run along, Miss Madison, will you stay just a few moments to help me with your knowledge?"

"Of course. Change your frock, Avis. Put on something less black, please do."

Avis promised, and went away with Craig.

Fleeting Stone was in his element. Many a time he had discovered an entrance to an allegedly unenterable room, and now he had a chance to do it again. So absorbed was he, he almost forgot Cornelia's presence.

There was the door from the hall, the proper and legitimate entrance, there were three windows, two giving on the front and one at the side looking east. All of these were fastened immovably.

"Shall we close these windows?" Stone said. "The air is cold today."

The body of Harley Madison had been removed at the orders of the Examiner, and had been taken to the morgue for an autopsy. The bed had been made up and the room tidied, and Hetty had put a vase of flowers on the bedside table.

Cornelia sank down in a great easy chair, and let herself relax a little.

"Yes," she said, "do close the windows, please."

"This is a really beautiful room, though not in the modern style of furnishing. It is just as it was when Mrs. Madison was here?"

"Yes. My brother wanted nothing changed."

"You approved of the marriage?"

"I was very happy about it. For years my prime object in life has been to see my brother happy, and I have done everything I could for him."

Anti-Vivisection Society Submits Letter to Ottawa

Information has been received from England by the Canadian Anti-Vivisection Society, Victoria, that vaccination and inoculation are not compulsory among territories or provinces, and that inoculation against typhoid, tetanus and other diseases is not compulsory in any section of the British Army.

The Victoria Anti-Vivisection Society submitted this information to Ottawa on resolution made at the recent board meeting.

A staunch supporter of the anti-vivisection movement has been lost in the passing of Rev. Sir David Hunter Blair, Bart., Dunfermline, Scotland.

A free meeting will be held on Tuesday, November 14, in the Y.M.C.A. building, when G. B. Kitto will speak. Young people are specially invited. The meeting will be partly social in character and the public is cordially invited.

What Today Means

"SCORPIO"

If November 2 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., from 3:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m., and from 8:30 to 10:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 8:30 to 10:30 a.m., from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m., and from 10:30 p.m. until midnight. Independence of thought will make many people inclined to rebel at having the ideas of others forced upon them this day. Issues involving personal privileges ought to be avoided, for disagreements are likely to be the only outcome of them. Be cautious in your financial transactions, for the assumption of obligations may be the forerunner of future worries. This is not a propitious time to go into debt. Sentimental declarations may be taken seriously, so tender words had best not be expressed unless they are meant. Bluffs are likely to be called particularly in cases where invitations are extended with the expectation of their being refused. If you think you have worries try telling yours to someone and you may be surprised how insignificant they are in comparison with those of others. Married and engaged couples, and those passing through the romantic period of love, if worried about anything this day must remember "Fortune leaves always some door open to come at a remedy." If you are a woman and November 2 is your birthday, your home-making instincts should make you an ideal mate for any good man. You are apt to be very sentimental, which will account for a great fondness you might have for poetry. You very likely are conservative in your clothing and personal adornment. Failures often form the foundation for permanent success to rest on, providing that they have not been permitted to undermine aspirations. Through some specialized form of instruction, the lecture platform, stage, radio or motion picture work, fiction writing, reporting or selling your results ought to be most gratifying. The serenity of your matrimonial future seems to be assured if you do your full share to help establish it. The child born on November 2, in all probability will be a very literal youngster, who will generally accept everything told to it seriously as the truth. Attempts to fool children born on this date are likely to fail. If you are a man and November 2 is your natal day, stick to your ideals and close your ears to those of others. If they run contrary to yours. As a clergyman, missionary, contact man, publisher, editor, author, engineer, manufacturer, actor or politician your business, praised and well paid. Methods perhaps, will be highly (Released by Bell Syndicate).
